Washington Senator Takes Issue With Administration

Washington — Sen. Magnuson (D-Wash.) took issue today with the administration's decision not to recommend at this time repeal of the excise taxes on rail freight and passenger fares.

Magnuson, chairman of the senate commerce committee, also disagreed with proposals advanced by Secretary of Commerce Weeks for revising federal rate-making policies.

But otherwise, he said, the administration's recommendations for bolstering the railroads were in line with the ideas of a commerce subcommittee that has made an extensive study of the industry's problems.

"I'm glad to see the administration is with us on these—finally," Magnuson said.

Criticize Proposal

Railroad spokesmen also voiced the feeling the administration's plan didn't go far enough. Daniel P. Loomis, president of the Association of American Railroads, said it was "distinctly disappointing."

The administration's views for federal regulation of employment, pension and welfare were set forth by Weeks yesterday in a letter to Sen. Magnuson. Labor leaders have called them "sensible and constructive" and said they would be helpful in preparing the subcommittee's report.

Some senators said privately they were sure the pension welfare fund proposal was only labor bill that had a chance of getting through congress this year.

Envoy's Leave During Speech by Tito Aide

Russia, Satellites Accused Of Using Cominform Tactics In Effort to Isolate Yugoslavia

BY EUGENE LEVIN

Ljubljana, Yugoslavia — Moscow's ambassador led a walkout of indignant communist envoys from the Yugoslav communist congress today after their governments were accused of "sharpening up the old and rusty weapons of the Cominform" against President Tito.

Only communist-ruled Poland's ambassador remained, although his country, along with the other Moscow satellites, had joined a boycott of the congress by refusing to send official delegations.

The walkout came at a recent speech by Alexander Rankovic, a vice president of Yugoslavia, its chief of communist party affairs and a long-time ally of the Soviet Union. He accused this country's neighbors of reverting to the Stalin era in pursuing "a policy of pressure rates move up and down with index changes. The bulk of the million workers, some 800,000, are in the railroad industry and will receive a 4-cent hourly raise."

The new living cost hike means a pay raise of 2 to 4 cents an hour for more than a million workers whose wages move up and down with index changes. The bulk of the million workers, some 800,000, are in the railroad industry and will receive a 4-cent hourly raise."

Replies Sought To Queries on Pentagon Plan

Committee Wants Written Answers to Specific Questions

Washington — A house committee sought written answers to specific questions about President Eisenhower's Pentagon reorganization plan today as prospects mounted for a marathon hearing on the proposal.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the house armed services committee made it plain yesterday a long grind is ahead as Secretary of Defense McElroy opened the administration campaign to centralize authority in the sprawling defense establishment. McElroy returns today.

Backs Separate Services

Vinson said each witness will be asked to stay on the stand until each of the committee's 37 members has "all of the information he desires." Only five members had a chance to question the defense secretary in yesterday's 2-hour session. He also said the committee will hear from all top civilian officials in the defense department, as well as military leaders.

Vinson asked McElroy to submit written answers to a series of pointed questions. They added up to a demand that McElroy spell out in detail why he needs additional authority and how he would exercise the added powers.

Vinson is an emphatic foe of any proposal that would downgrade the authority of the three separate services.

In his questions, he specifically asked McElroy why congress should give the secretary the power to consolidate, reassign, abolish or transfer military functions. This generally is referred to as the roles and missions of the services.

McClellan said hearings of his committee "in my estimation have shown a complete disregard of the rights of rank and file members of this union by Raymond Cohen, the secretary-treasurer, and his fellow officials."

Funds Misused

"In addition," McClellan's letter continued, "a misuse of union funds amounting to tens of thousands of dollars has been clearly established; union records have been altered; checks forged."

Cohen took the fifth amendment when questioned before the committee about alleged misuse of union money.

McClellan expressed opinion that sufficient evidence has been developed at the hearings to call for removal of Cohen and fellow officials under the AFL-CIO ethical practices code, and to remove Cohen as a trustee of the international union.

Reach Agreement With Canal Shareholders

Cairo — An Egyptian official said today final agreement has been reached for compensation to shareholders of the Universal Suez Canal Co., a prime source of friction with the west.

Abdel Giucil Elemary, Egyptian representative in the long negotiations, told local newsmen the agreement will be signed as soon as a draft is completed.

Most of the shareholders are French and British. The canal was nationalized by President Nasser in July of 1956.

U. S. Expert Off to Fight Oil Field Blaze

Teheran — American oil fire expert Myron Kinley arrived in Teheran early today and left almost immediately by special plane for the Ahwaz oil field to fight a fire burning furiously since Saturday.

Kinley said until he surveyed the scene he could not tell how long it would take to cap the well, described by officials of the government oil company as the richest ever drilled in Iran. Officials estimate a million dollars worth of oil is being lost daily in the fire.

Must be Sure of Making Right Moves to Help Economy, President Says

Washington — President Eisenhower said today he believes the business recession has been flattening out for some time and that Americans should guard against becoming hysterical about the slump.

Eisenhower told a news conference he is not attempting to be Pollyannaish about the recession and contend that everything is lovely.

There still is a lot of agonizing reappraisal going on in the administration about how to deal with the slump, Eisenhower continued.

But, the president said, he wants to speak out once more against any hasty action on a tax cut, and he made it clear no request to congress for a reduction is imminent.

It was at this point that Eisenhower said he believes the recession has been flattening out for some time, and added that we should not get hysterical about the situation.

Questioned about criticism by Democratic leaders that the administration hasn't been moving fast enough against the recession and has not displayed boldness and courage, Eisenhower replied that it is well enough to talk about boldness and courage once you have a plan developed for dealing with the situation.

Praises Record

But he said the administration still is studying the picture to make sure it will be right in any anti-recession move.

We are just trying to be right, Eisenhower repeated.

He said that in his view the administration has made quite an impressive record since last September in dealing with the recession.

Aside from the recession, he dealt with these other topics: As to defense, he asserted that a questioner might just as well say that congress is nuts and wants to abolish the defense department, as to put any stock in contentions in congress that the administration's Pentagon reorganization program could lead to a one man, personalized military force—a kind of dictatorship.

Obviously irritated, Eisenhower asked Sara McClendon, who represents Texas newspapers, whether she had read the law before bringing up that matter to him.

Won't Weaken Services

Miss McClendon replied she had read it, but Eisenhower argued she had not.

Then he went on to say that the administration reorganization program would not weaken any of the three military services in any respect. The mass of military appropriations would be made directly to the individual services, Eisenhower said.

Eisenhower said a Democratic-sponsored bill for expansion of unemployment insurance has grave defects and would tend to be destructive of the whole unemployment insurance program as now set up. He had been asked whether he might veto such a bill as predicted yesterday by Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.).

Outright Dole

The bill, approved earlier this week by the house ways and means committee, goes far beyond the administration plan by proposing that the federal government foot alone the $1 billion cost of the emergency program.

The Eisenhower plan provides for reimbursement of the federal government either by

Vote Reduction In Military Aid

Washington — The house foreign affairs committee voted today to cut next year's arms aid to friendly nations $160 million below President Eisenhower's $1,800,000,000 request.

Acting Chairman Morgan (D-Pa.) announced the committee action, its first vote on the total $3,900,000,000 program Eisenhower wants for strengthening the free world during the year starting July 1.

Morgan said the administration-opposed cut carried by a close vote of around 15-12 in closed session. Morgan himself supported the slash.

The initial vote fore-shadowed possible further cuts as the house group goes through other parts of the program. Total committee reductions of up to half a billion dollars have been predicted. A state department official said a cut of that size would be "murderous."

Predicts 40-Seat Victory in House

Democratic Leader Gives Opinion In Wake of GOP Head's View That Republicans Will Not Win Senate

Washington — The Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler predicted today Democrats will gain at least 40 house seats and eight to 12 senate seats in the November elections.

He commented on the unusual statement yesterday by Meade Alcorn, Republican national chairman, that "I just don't think it's in the cards" for the GOP to capture control of the senate.

Alcorn contended, however, that the Republicans will take a bare majority control of the house, which like the senate is now controlled by Democrats. He talked with newsmen after a White House conference with President Eisenhower.

Alcorn's senate forecast brought quick disagreement from senate Republican Leader Charles McNamara, who said that the party has a "strong" chance of winning the senate, but substantial support from Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.).

Too Early
"I think it's too early in the game to call the score yet," Knowland said. "I think the battle will be a close one, but its outcome will be determined by conditions later in the year."

But Goldwater, noting that "the arithmetic is against us," said that as a practical matter he has to agree with Alcorn.

He commented also that "we have lost too many local elections in the last couple of years—those for county and local offices—to expect to win the big one."

Although Republicans assessing these factors have long been pessimistic over their chances, Alcorn's advance forecast of defeat was a rare thing for a party leader to make openly in advance of an election campaign. More usual are overly optimistic claims to victory.

In November, the voters will fill 34 senate seats and all 435 house memberships.

Part of the Republican gloom stems from the circumstance that puts 21 senate seats they now hold, and only 13 Democratic seats, up for decision. And six of the Democrats' seats are in the normally Democratic south.

The present house is made up of 232 Democrats and 198 Republicans. There are five vacant seats, three formerly held by Democrats and two by Republicans. The senate division is 49 Democrats and 47 Republicans.

"We are looking for a gain of from eight to 12 seats in the senate," Butler said. "I don't think we will lose a seat we now have."

Alcorn's claim of Republican victory in the house certainly is not indicated in any of the reports we have. We believe our net gain will be 40 seats and possibly more."

Truman and Company
As for Alcorn's statement that the Democrats—"Truman and company," as he put it—have been overplaying the business recession as a campaign issue, Butler said:

"We are not relying solely on the recession as a basis for our Democratic victory. Foreign policy, defense, agriculture policy or the lack of it, and failure of the president to provide dynamic leadership for the people are the main issues."

Alcorn reported to Eisenhower on the party's prospects on the basis of a recent trip through Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana and Missouri. But he said he did not tell the president about his belief that the Republicans are not likely to win senate control.

The further he gets from Washington, Alcorn said, the less concern there is among Republican candidates about the business slump as a campaign issue. He added, however, that unemployment is a problem in some industrial areas of such states as Massachusetts and New York.

Gives Reasons Why Women Work for Less

Salt Lake City — One reason many women earn less than men for similar work is that they are willing to accept less, according to Economics Professor Reed Richardson of the University of Utah. He said this is because their earnings only supplement the family income. The tradition that women are not permanent job-holders also contributes to inequitable pay scales, Richardson said.

Clear Way for Heikkila to Return to U. S.

But Government Vows to Continue Deportation Fight

Washington — U. S. officials cleared the way today for William Heikkila to return home after conceding they acted too hastily in abruptly deporting him to his native Finland.

However, the government vowed it will continue its 11-year fight to deport the 32-year-old San Francisco draftsman on charges he was once a member of the communist party.

Immigration Commissioner Joseph M. Swing authorized Heikkila's return at U. S. expense yesterday on grounds of a technical error.

Swing acted a few hours after Heikkila, clad only in a light suit with no overcoat, arrived at Helsinki in the midst of a sleet storm. He contended he had been kidnapped by U. S. immigration agents.

He was grabbed by agents as he emerged from his San Francisco office Friday and whisked off to Finland by way of Vancouver, B. C., and the Netherlands.

Only One Desire
Informed of Swing's decision, Heikkila said he would return home at once. "I have only one desire in my heart—to return to my home and wife."

Heikkila was born in Finland while his parents, naturalized Americans of Finnish birth, were visiting their homeland. He was brought to this country as an infant but he never was naturalized.

"For many years I have applied for American citizenship but it has not been granted," he told newsmen in Helsinki. As for the communist charge, he said:

"Sure, I was a communist in 1929 to 1939 in Minnesota. But from the time I left there for San Francisco I have had nothing to do with politics. I have not had the time. I have just been working. I am a Democrat."

In authorizing Heikkila's return, Swing said after studying the case "I have come to the conclusion that an error in judgment was made in not returning Heikkila from Vancouver, B. C., last Sunday."

Highway Crashes Claim Two Lives

Milwaukee — Two more deaths due to highway accidents raised the 1958 toll of traffic fatalities in Wisconsin today to 189, compared with 225 on this day a year ago.

Mrs. Josephine Butts, 48, of Jefferson died Tuesday night in St. Mary's hospital at Watertown of injuries received Saturday when her car left a county trunk road five miles south of Watertown and crashed into several trees.

Earl Lindoo, 61, of Milltown, was killed Tuesday and his wife, Minnie, 60, seriously injured when their automobile and a vehicle driven by Don Woodford, 20, of Cadott, collided on Highway 27 near the outskirts of Ladysmith. Mrs. Lindoo and Woodford were taken to St. Mary's hospital at Ladysmith.

Mrs. Phyllis Heikkila, 38-year-old American-born wife of William Heikkila, looks at an Associated Press wirephoto from Helsinki, Finland, of her husband. Heikkila was deported to Finland last Friday but Immigration Commissioner Joseph M. Swing said the department acted too quickly and Heikkila would be returned to the U. S. to continue his 11-year fight against deportation. Mrs. Heikkila is in San Francisco. (AP Wirephoto)

Describe 'Birth Control Method Said To Have Approval of Church Leaders

By RENNIE TAYLOR Associated Press Science Reporter

Los Angeles — A new birth control method, said by its sponsor to have the approval of leading Catholic church officials, was described here today in a medical movie.

The procedure does not interfere directly with the reproductive process. It simply warns a couple when to abstain from sex relations if they do not want a child.

It is based on a simple color test which shows the woman's ovulation time—the period during which an egg comes into position for fertilization. But behind it is a graphic piece of research showing how the egg escapes from the ovary and how it may stay near the womb until picked up by an ovulation tube to await fertilization.

Egg's Odyssey
The odyssey of the egg was shown in a color film by Dr. Joseph Bernard Doyle, of Tufts university, Boston, before the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists. It was the film's premiere.

Dr. Doyle, a Catholic, is director of the fertility clinic at St. Elizabeth hospital and a research associate at St. Margaret Maternity Center, both in Boston.

Dr. Doyle told reporters the new color test method has the approval of Archbishop Richard J. Cushing of Boston; The Rev. John C. Ford, professor of moral theology at Boston college; and the Rev. Gerald Kelly, said the man was not laid off of St. Mary's college, St. Mary's, Kan.

The scientific facts behind follow a foreman's instructions.

the test are not new. Researchers previously determined that when an egg is released from an ovary it is a free agent having no connection with a blood vessel to obtain food. It has to get its nourishment in its surroundings, which are the secretions in the area of the womb.

Contain Sugar

Dr. Charles Birnberg, a Brooklyn researcher, found that the secretions contain sugar to feed the egg, and that the sugar is there only when the egg is present.

The egg can live only 24 hours or so after it leaves the ovary, and only about 12 hours, in the tube, Dr. Doyle said. It dies, the sugar in the secretions disappears.

USDA Estimates Increase in Net Income for Agriculture

Washington — The agriculture department said today with $11,700,000,000 in the first present prospects point to an increase of from 5 to 10 per cent in farmers' net income this year over last.

The net income is the amount left after all the larger government paying production expenses, payments to farmers under the soil bank land retirement program, was $11.1 billion. Cash receipts are expected to be higher this year for both the farm income situation based on crops and livestock, but more on this forecast on the expectation for the latter. The department says that farm prices will average higher than last year and realized in receipts for cattle that a larger volume of some and calves. Receipts for hogs products will be produced, also are likely to exceed 1957.

Confident America Will Turn Tide Against U. S. Recession, ANPA Told

Newspapers Must Reveal Facts of Economic Issue, Publisher Says

New York — The tide against the recession will be turned by a confident American people, fully informed of the facts, William Dwight, president of the American Newspaper Publishers association, said today.

Dwight, publisher of the Hokyoke, Mass., Transcript-Telegram, took sharp issue with anyone who would suppress recession news.

"A constructive and confident attack on the recession cannot be made by throwing sand in the public's eyes or by asking it to bury its head like an ostrich," Dwight told the association's annual convention in a prepared address.

"From all sides the people are being asked to show confidence, but who is showing confidence in the people? The newspapers are when they lay the facts before them."

Dwight said decisions by the executive branch of government or legislation by congress "cannot by themselves turn the tide."

"A confident American people will," he said. Must Have Truth
Dwight said American newspaper publishers believe that the people must have the truth and that they can take it.

"Our national problems cannot be solved," he said, "by a citizenry that does not know what the score is."

"The bar association has every right to prescribe a code of conduct for its own members, but only a legislature paternalism or mean or short-should enact laws," he said.

"However," he said, "some of our craft union leaders continue to refuse to permit the full use of new machinery which increases output and improves our product."

"This is short-sighted and does not meet the demands of the times. This is what fires inflation and thwarts the attainment of the goal of a higher standard of living which we all seek. Instead, it forced prices up for everybody and no one gains."

Dwight said the American Bar association is "trying to not be solved," he said, "by a citizenry that does not know what the score is."

"On the other hand our problems are greatly multiplied by those who through misguided paternalism or mean or short-should enact laws," he said.

"The bar association has every right to prescribe a code of conduct for its own members, but only a legislature paternalism or mean or short-should enact laws," he said.

Two Blocs in Struggle Over Tax Reduction

Climax Coming in June When Levy on Corporations Drops

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — Everybody's talking about a tax cut, but nobody here is doing much about it. The main reason is that there is a tug of war going on between two blocs. It's a struggle between those who want to distribute more "purchasing power" irrespective of whether it removes the basic cause of the present recession and those who want to tackle forthrightly the reasons for the unemployment that has arisen in certain key industries.

One route could lead to more inflation and possibly a crash, followed by a deep depression a couple years hence.

The other route would lead to a sound prosperity with lower and lower taxes and more and more employment, especially in the so-called durable-goods industries.

The first route appeals to the demagogue. The second route calls for the kind of courage that congress rarely exhibits. For it requires in the next five years a reduction in government spending and a stimulus to private spending.

Expect Negotiations The climax is coming soon. For on June 30 next the corporation tax automatically drops to 47 per cent from the present rate of 52 per cent. Naturally there are members of congress who will say that, if the corporations are to get a reduction, the individual also should get his cut. This must inevitably lead to a negotiation. The champions of sound economics have the whip hand. All they need to do is stand pat and refuse to agree to any unsound measures. They have enough votes to block a demagogic type of tax-reduction bill. And the president has the veto power if indeed a majority does put such a measure through both houses.

Only a compromise can solve the problem and get a new tax law enacted. What kind of bill could get through congress? Backed by an overwhelming public opinion, a law could be passed, which the president probably would sign, that would accomplish these objectives:

1. To ease the losses in receipts to the treasury by reducing corporate tax rates gradually — two points a year

How To Hold FALSE TEETH More Firmly in Place

"Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass by slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, laugh or talk? Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This alkaline (non-acid) powder holds false teeth more firmly and more comfortably. No gummy, sticky, pasty taste or feeling. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). —over a 5-year period so that five years from now the rate would be 42 per cent.

2. To make a gradual reduction in individual income taxes over the same 5-year period so that all classes of income taxpayers would be benefited.

3. To revise the present system whereby depreciation on plant and equipment extends over many years—sometimes 30 or 50 years—and let the deductions for depreciation be taken in whatever length of time the taxpayer selects. Once the period is selected, it would not be subject to change. The treasury would gain revenue if the period were short, inasmuch as profits presumably would be bigger than normal after the depreciation period fixed by the taxpayer is over.

Certainly the heavy-goods industries would benefit immediately because orders would be promptly given for new plant and equipment. It would be a chance for manufacturers generally to bring their machinery up to date and enable them to achieve a bigger output of goods at a lower expense. Employment would increase substantially all along the line, and especially in the very categories where unemployment has been considerable. Just as soon as re-employment began in the durable-goods industries, automobile sales, for instance, would show a rise.

There is, however, one thing that could defeat even such a tax program—a failure of labor-union leaders to postpone their demands for higher wages at least until recovery is substantial.

Expense Cuts Another prerequisite to tax reduction is the pruning of government expenditures. Just now the "spenders" seem to have it all their way. But it's precisely because the government has been forced by congress into wasteful expenditures heretofore that the dollar has been depreciated in purchasing power. The cost of the things the government itself buys has been inflated due to higher labor expenses all along the line. That's why federal budgets have risen in recent years.

A moratorium on wage increases, a new tax-reduction law to stimulate the heavy-goods industries by a sensible system of depreciation, and tax relief for corporations and individuals on a gradual basis over the next five years, together with self-restraint on wages and prices—this is the program that would really cure the recession. Will congress have the courage to do it? Only if the people of the nation insist upon such a policy.

Altar Society to Hold Public Card Party

Darboy — A public card party will be sponsored by the St. Ann Altar society tonight in the Holy Angels' school hall. Group two will be in charge of serving with Mrs. Frank Scheidmeyer chairman.

A day of recollection will be held for young members of the Holy Angels' parish Sunday beginning after the 10 o'clock mass. The conferences will be given by Father Mortel, assistant pastor of Holy Name Catholic church, Kimberly.

Iowa Family Visits At Sherwood Home

Sherwood — Mr. and Mrs. Norman Boyle and family, Newton, Iowa, are visiting at the Anton Sevenich home.

The Rev. Henry J. Schmit, pastor of Sacred Heart Catholic church, has returned from a visit to Pittsburgh, Pa.

Hi Neighbor!

may we help you help yourself?

We make this offer straight from the heart. We have a keen interest in your welfare when you visit us. And we're eager to make your shopping easy — really pleasant and rewarding.

Take our spotless meat department, for example. Roasts and chops — all varieties — are fresh-cut and packaged so you can pick your favorite in a jiffy. Convenient? Yes —and so mouth-watering—so thrifty. Or, if you prefer, our meat cutters will be happy to fix any kind of a special order for you.

In our good-neighbor policy our customer services come first. We keep an eagle eye out for new ways to serve you better — make your shopping more convenient — for new ways to bring you an ever-wider variety of low-cost, quality foods — so that you and your family may always have the best for less.

Young Rick Priebe May Audition for Red Foley

BY JINGO
Thirteen-year-old Rick Priebe, the 1-man radio station of W. Spring street, has been asked to audition for "Ozark Jubilee," the Red Foley TV show.

If everything works out, Rick would be master of ceremonies for the "Jubilee's" annual kids' show.

What would you do if you were locked in a communist prison cell for five years with never a glimpse of daylight?

Hermann Field, American architect in Poland from 1949 to 1954, joined a Polish cellmate, Stanislaw Mierzenski, in narrating and finally writing novels.

One of their joint efforts, "Angry Harvest," has been published to critical acclaim and will be presented tonight on "Kraft Theater" at 8 o'clock. It concerns the dilemma of a prosperous Polish farmer who shelters a young Jewish girl fleeing from the Germans in World war II.

Jingo's Jewels: NBC radio will rebroadcast Dr. Pusey's "The Case for the College," which aired on the CBS radio network a month ago. Time: Next Tuesday at 8:05 at night. It's the kind of precedent—NBC rebroadcasting a CBS show—you don't see. "Bridge on the River Kwai" opens next Wednesday at the Viking. The between scenes announcer for WFRV-TV's MGM movies is the only drawback besides the too-frequent commercials. Tonight's film is "Heavenly Body," with William Powell and Hedy Lamar. Thursday night it's "Manproof," with Myrna Loy and Franchot Tone. Danny Thomas' TV children, Sherry Jackson and Rusty Hamer, will be guests of Perry Como on May 1. Elizabeth Scott, star of dozens of films, launches a singing career tonight on CBS-TV's "The Big Record." "Leave It to Beaver" moves to CBS-TV next fall.

probably in the 8:30 to 9 o'clock at night spot. . . . Mikhail A. Menshikov, Soviet ambassador to the United States, will be interviewed Sunday on ABC-TV's "College News Conference" . . . Maurice Chevalier appearance on "Person to Person," cancelled last week by the technicians' strike, will be seen May 2.

Robert Taylor, when he starts filming of "Party Girl" with Cyd Charisse, will be making his 75th movie. He's been with MGM since February, 1934. You saw him Tuesday night in a Jean Harlow picture on the WFRV-TV MGM series. . . . Jane Wyman will play an Irish lass who leaves the old country to become a chambermaid in a swank American hotel in her new TV series slated for next fall. . . . "Shooting for the Moon," the first factual story of the Jupiter C missile, will be presented Thursday night on TV by "Climax." . . . "Matinee Theater," which dies June 27, cost $10 million for 650 afternoon dramas. It was in the red, needless to say.

Flag Day Parade Slated June 14

The annual Flag Day parade, interrupted last year by the centennial celebration, will be resumed this year.

William T. Hart, chairman of the parade committee, has announced the parade will be held Saturday afternoon, June 14, Flag day. Starting time is not settled.

The committee held its organizational meeting at the Elks club, Carl Peotter, parade marshal, said. Committeemen include William Wren, Joseph Mulduri, H. Philip Dixon, Clarence Horn, Frank Gutreuter, Fred Mathews, Kermid Luckow, Ald. Alvin Tews and William Dagneau.

Paul Robeson to Give Program in New York

New York — Singer Paul Robeson will perform his first program here in more than 10 years on May 9 at Carnegie hall.

The Negro basso will sing traditional songs and folk music and recite dramatic poetry. The recitations will include scenes from Shakespeare's "Othello," which he played on Broadway in 1943.

Robeson announced at the end of a concert in Salt Lake City in 1947 that he was retiring, at least temporarily, from concert work and would sing only "for my trade union and college friends; in other words, only at gatherings where I can sing what I please."

In the following years he sang at organization meetings and rallies for political and other causes. He has been identified with communist causes over a number of years and has declined to sign a state department affidavit concerning past or present membership in the communist party.

AAL Branch to Meet

Greenville—The Aid Association for Lutherans branch No. 754 will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Seifert Thursday night.

INITIAL INVESTMENT LOW AS $1000

Steel buildings aren't new. But the Stran-Master is! Here's a durable utility building at rock bottom price. Despite the surprisingly low cost you get rugged construction, many years and years of use. The new Stran-Master is fireproof, termite proof, vermin proof, maintenance free, repair or replace as you wish. You have a choice of six widths, 24', 36', 48', 60' and 72'. And an optional length of 16 feet. If you're concerned about a building that's low in cost and insulated for year-round use, the Stran-Master is ideal for your needs. We handle the complete service operation. We handle the complete service operation. We handle the complete service operation.

EASY TO BUY: You can buy a Stran-Master building for as little as $1000. No down payment. No interest. No taxes. No insurance. No maintenance. No repairs. No replacements. No replacements. No replacements.

Ike Thinks Recession Is Now Flattening Out

he personally never admits defeat in any fight and is not going to do so in this case, in advance.

The president said any Soviet effort to restrict attendance at a summit conference to U. S. and Russian representatives would be difficult to justify and could be interpreted as a Soviet move to divide and weaken the western allies.

Asked how he feels about the idea of his meeting alone with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, the president noted that this country has allies and said it will not attempt to speak for them in any such move to restrict the conference.

Eisenhower strongly defended this country's right to conduct practice bomber flights in the polar region. Russia last week contended such flights in the direction of its frontier were provocative and later took the matter to the United Nations Security Council. The Soviet union representative withdrew a censure resolution before a U. N. vote was reached.

Must Be Ready

Eisenhower said there had been a lot of over-statement regarding the matter, apparently alluding to the Soviet charges. He said that if the United States is going to exist in these days of possible surprise attack, then all our bomber planes have to get off the ground and be ready for any attack.

Once in the air, Eisenhower said, the plane crews must have specific orders before proceeding to any attack. And such orders in the case of nuclear armed planes can come only from the president, he added.

As for the possible effect of the Russian charges on prospects for a summit conference, Eisenhower said the Soviet attitude really is puzzling to him. He said he had been discussing this matter with some of his aides and puzzlement was the general feeling.

Eisenhower shot back a blunt no when asked whether he would comment on a speech by Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) which went after the administration on the peace issue.

Mansfield said the administration is claiming credit for peace in the Far East when actually, as he put it, there is only a tenuous truce.

A reporter recalled that Eisenhower two weeks ago advised Americans to "buy anything" in an effort to combat the recession, so long as they did not do so carelessly. The newsman asked what the president has been purchasing in line with his own advice.

Eisenhower inquired whether the states or through a higher tax on employers.

The president said the Democratic-sponsored plan, by including idle workers not now covered by the unemployment insurance program, would be simply a dole and nothing else.

It would be very difficult to administer, he said, adding that he believes that would not be good business.

Taking issue with Meade Alcorn, the Republican national chairman, Eisenhower said he refuses to concede that it just isn't in the cards—as Alcorn put it yesterday—for the GOP to capture control of the senate in the November elections.

Eisenhower noted that Alcorn reported to him yesterday before talking with newsmen. The president said he didn't know that Alcorn feels the way he does about GOP senate prospects, because the chairman was most enthusiastic and encouraging in talking to him.

Eisenhower said he doesn't know why Alcorn spoke as he did to newsmen at the White House later.

The president went on to say a degree of political independence from Moscow.

Rankovic continued his address hinting an attempt already has been made to split the reporter wanted to go and ask his personal aide about presidential purchases. He himself, Eisenhower added, has no information on it.

Atomic Data Exchange

Discussing the administration proposal for an exchange of atomic information with allies, Eisenhower called it necessary that such allies as Britain and France receive data from the United States which will help speed development of their own nuclear programs.

Such nations, he said, still need much information, and giving it to them will help make them stronger.

Just before his news conference Eisenhower conferred with two Cleveland auto dealers who originated a "You Auto Buy Now" campaign which has spread to many other cities.

Eisenhower said he found their account of the campaign most interesting.

He also reported that the two dealers—Leo J. Conway and David Blaushild—are trying to get colleagues everywhere to post fixed, firm prices for cars in an effort to eliminate what Eisenhower called price undercutting and other bad practices.

The president quoted the two dealers as urging him to tell his news conference that what is needed most in dealing with the recession is better salesmanship and better advertising.

Some of those who supported the Stalin attack on Tito in 1948, he said, still were "acting in a hostile manner."

His speech was one of the bitterest attacks on the Moscow-led opponents of Tito's policy of independent communism since Nikita Khrushchev in 1954 began the retreat from Stalin's cold war against Tito.

Jump

The congress gave a cheering pledge of allegiance to the Tito leadership after Rankovic called for a sharp reaction to attempts to "isolate Yugoslavia."

Continues Speech

Rankovic's 20,000-word speech, distributed in advance to the delegates, began with an 80-minute discussion of internal affairs. Then came the 30-minute recess.

Rankovic went on without showing he noticed the ambassadors were missing, continuing an offensive against foreign communist critics launched by Tito yesterday in opening the 6-day meeting of 1,700 party delegates. Tito advised the Kremlin to give up absurd attempts to make Yugoslav toe the Russian line.

Rankovic said: "Certain very responsible people who are our neighbors, instead of profiting from experience, are again sharpening old and rusty weapons of the cominform, reviving long-compromised accusations about Yugoslav communists and their alleged deviation from the principles of Marxism and Leninism."

In 1948 Stalin threw Yugoslavia out of the cominform, organization of national communist parties. Then the Soviet dictator used the cominform to coordinate propaganda attacks on Tito. Khrushchev dissolved the organization as part of his effort to patch up differences with the Yugoslavs.

Rankovic said the Yugoslav

UN Armistice Unit Decides Against Israel

Orders 900 Troops, Tanks and Guns Out of Jerusalem

Jerusalem — The U. N. mixed armistice commission today told Israel to withdraw from Jerusalem 900 of the troops she had brought in for a parade celebrating the Jewish nation's 10th anniversary.

The Jordan-Israeli commission adopted a Jordanian resolution also calling on Israel to pull out 80 tanks and 36 artillery pieces assembled for the birthday celebration tomorrow.

There was no immediate indication whether Israel would comply.

Jordan based her demands on the 1949 armistice agreement, communist party "did not sell out anyone in 1948, even when there was a rattling of arms on Yugoslav borders."

"Now, however, we again are hearing voices from various sides making hardly disguised allusions to the effect that we are 'sitting on two seats' and are 'bowing and scraping before imperialists' in order to get N. mixed armistice commission."

Israel claims the gulf—which extends up from the Red sea to southern Israel and Jordan—is an international waterway open to foreign vessels, Saudi Arabia, Egypt and Jordan claim it is a closed inland waterway exclusively under Arab jurisdiction since it lies between Saudi Arabia and Egypt.

One Israeli fisherman was found dead and another was missing after the shooting yesterday, which touched off an exchange of charges between the two governments.

An Israeli army spokesman said the fishermen were fired on by a vessel which came out of Jordan's Aqaba harbor as they tried to retrieve another boat that had been swept from its mooring in the neighboring Israeli port of Eilat. An Israeli navy launch went to the aid of the fishermen, the spokesman added.

Jordan claimed the armed Israeli launch entered Jordanian waters and fired on one of her coast guard vessels. She said Jordanian guns drove off the launch and two other Israeli vessels that tried to get in the fray.

Jordan complained to the U. N. mixed armistice commission.

which bars armored equipment from a zone six miles back from each side of the armistice line. It also limits Israeli and Jordanian troops in the entire sector to 1,600 each.

Israel had conceded that the size of the parade force was greater than the agreement allowed, but contended no violation was involved since the extras would be pulled out as soon as the march ended.

Israel's birthday eve was further clouded by an Israeli-Jordanian clash in the disputed Gulf of Aqaba.

See No Effort to Revive Oleo Bill in U. S. Senate

Washington — No efforts will be made by the senate this session to revive legislation to permit the navy to purchase oleo, margarine, senate sources told Rep. Melvin Laird, Marshfield Republican, late today.

This information came to the Wisconsin congressman after the house accepted on a 207-161 vote his amendment to the navy-oleo bill prohibiting the navy from buying any oleo until the government has stopped purchasing butter.

Laird offered this amendment to the bill as manager for the Republicans in opposition to the navy oleo bill originally introduced by Rep. Mendel Rivers, South Carolina Democrat. The Laird amendment, which was supported by all members of the Wisconsin house delegation from both sides of the aisle, now would prohibit the navy even from using oleo for cooking, Laird said.

Homemakers of City Receive State Award

Baby Sitting Clinic Earns 2nd Certificate For 2 Organizations

Kaukauna — The Kaukauna Homemakers clubs, sponsored by the School of Vocational and Adult Education, were selected for a state award at the annual Homemakers conference in Madison last week.

This is the third consecutive year the clubs have received a state award for their project. It is the second year that their Baby Sitters' clinic received state recognition.

Evaluation of Homemaker projects is carried out by members of the directors' association. Certificates of merit are awarded if projects create wide membership interest, concern and participation, are the kind every club member could profit from and get satisfaction through participation, be timely and meet community needs and conform to the objectives of the city Homemaker's clubs of Wisconsin.

Local Project

Homemakers sponsored a clinic earlier this year for seventh graders where the city nurse and mothers of children explained duties of baby sitters and how to care for children.

The Vocational school has on file the names of over 125 students who received certificates after attending two baby sitter training sessions. Requests for sitters are constantly being filled from the file of trained sitters, according to Mrs. James I. McFadden, coordinator for the school and Homemaker units.

Members of the project committee responsible for this year's program were Mrs. Milton Teske, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Joseph Bayorgeon, Mrs. Clarence Baumgartner, Mrs. Norman Mann, Mrs. Norman Meinert and Mrs. Gerald Koster.

Dates Scheduled To Register for Kindergarten

Kaukauna — Registration of children for kindergarten sessions in the 1958-59 school year will be held Tuesday and Wednesday next week at the public grade schools, according to T. H. Boebel, superintendent of schools.

Registrations at Park school will be taken from 9 o'clock in the morning until 11:45 in the morning and from 1 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon on Tuesday. Persons enrolling youngsters will register in the kindergarten rooms and there will be no school at Park for kindergarten children on the day of registration.

Nicolet school registration will be held on Wednesday at the same hours in kindergarten rooms. Kindergarten students at Nicolet school will not attend classes on Wednesday. Children must have reached their fifth birthday by Oct. 1, 1958, to be eligible to enroll. Parents are asked not to bring the youngsters but a birth certificate may be required by the registering teacher.

United Church Cancels Class in Bible Study

Kaukauna — The Bible Study class at Immanuel United Church of Christ, originally scheduled for 7:30 this evening, has been cancelled and will not be resumed until further notice from the pastor, the Rev. John Seib.

Discussion Club Will Meet on Thursday

Little Chute — The Mission Discussion club of St. John's Catholic church will meet at 7:30 Thursday evening at the grade school social room. Members are asked to bring a friend.

Committees Named to Work On KHS Class Night Events

KHS Journalists Told 'Russians Want Peace'

Quill and Scroll Members Learn of Citizenry of USSR

Kaukauna — "Whatever the government of Russia has on its mind, the people of that country do not want war and particularly do not want war with us," members of the Quill and Scroll of Kaukauna High school, Lions club members and guests were told by Miss Helen Matheson, assistant managing editor of the "Wisconsin State Journal," Tuesday evening.

Miss Matheson toured Russia last summer and was guest speaker for the annual banquet at which Lions honor high school journalism students. Topic of the talk was, "Russia: the Red Velvet Curtain." She selected this as the theme for her talk saying she had arrived in Russia at a freak time when the Russians were going out of their way to impress tourists for the Youth Festival. Other reasons she gave for being greeted with the velvet curtain was the easing of things in Russia since the death of Stalin and the realization by Russia that money could be made from American tourists. She told of how well tourists were treated and were shown everything the Russians wanted them to see. In contrast, American diplomats are restricted, spied upon and followed everywhere, according to the speaker.

Miss Matheson said it was impossible to know just where one stands in Russia as questioning of officials or dignitaries results only in more confusion as you never know when they are telling the truth. Russians are no longer an illiterate people and definitely are going somewhere said the speaker.

People of Russia

People in Russia dress shabbily but are intelligent, hard working, friendly, kind and proud people, said Miss Matheson. The Russians are striving very hard to impress with others with what they are doing and accomplishing, she stated.

Brilliant young minds in Russia may eventually change the way things are going in that nation, said the speaker, as these young minds overhear Russian leaders tell visiting Americans lies about the situation in that country. These minds will start to wonder why officials must lie if things in Russia are so good and eventually this could lead to change, she stated.

In conversation with the everyday Russian citizens, the guest picked up the impression that the people as a whole wanted peace at all costs, especially peace with the United States. She closed by telling of the locked and barred doors of churches in Russia but noted all barred doors were decorated with fresh flowers each day.

Ray Morgan, first vice president of the Lions, had charge of the meeting and toast-mistress was Miss Mary Lummerding. Short talks were given by James Lang, Guy Krumm and Thomas Whitman, president of the high school Quill and Scroll society.

Miss Frances Corry, society adviser, distributed editor's pins, reporter's pins and reporter's keys to 47 Kaukauna high school senior journalism students.

200-486 Lead Women's Loop

Kaukauna — Flora Brouillard slammed a 200 game and Carol Van Zealand posted a 486 series to set the individual pace in the final night of competition in the Friday Night Women's league at S and B alleys. Harrison took team honors with an 824 game and a 2,374 series. Harrison finished in first place with 64 wins and 26 losses while Bee's finished second, five games behind the leaders. Third place went to Nagel's bar with 46 wins and 44 losses. The only other high individual scores were rolled by Dot Morgan, 178 and Flora Brouillard, 479. The banquet will be held at 6 o'clock Monday night at the Kaukauna Elks club. Mike's Auto Laundry team will have charge of decorations and prizes.

Cub Scout Pack 27 Plans Paper Drive

Kaukauna — Cub Scout pack 27 of St. Mary's Catholic church will hold a paper drive Saturday afternoon. The drive will be held at the Kaukauna Elks club. City residents having paper to donate are asked to call Margaret Van Zealand, Dar-William Carol J.-Al Angela Charles Scaefier Tom Zornow ene Giesbers, Donna Bowers, Hennes and Darlene Giesbers, or Herbert Jansen.

Stan Welhouse In 551 Series

Tops Tri-City League in Final Round of Action

Little Chute — Gene Hammen and Stan Welhouse shared the high individual honors in the final round of action for the Tri-City league at the Recreation alleys.

Hammen had a 225 game and Welhouse counted a 553 series. Nick and Helen's Bar copped the league championship with a narrow two game margin over the second place Lefty's Bar squad. Lefty's dropped three straight games in the final round of competition to Cease's DX Service to miss a chance for the title.

Gene's Bar was third, Cease's finished fourth, Don's Cities Service was fifth and Van Zealand Garage, sixth. Other high scores included Vern Lamers, 200; Don Reynbeau, 527; Joe Reynbeau, 551; Harold Evers, 533; Dick Wyngaard, 532; Tony Wyngaard, 212 and Roger Gerrits, 528.

Split cleanups included Dan Geske, 5-10; Tony Wyngaard, 5-7 and Mel Ludwig, 4-10.

Men's Night to Start Thursday At Fox Valley

Kaukauna — The first men's night of the season will be held Thursday at the Fox Valley Golf club but it will not open the regular Twilight league competition.

Members are asked to arrange a foursome for the first event of the year and make plans to stay for supper. The turn-out Thursday will enable golf committee members to get an idea of the number to expect when regular league action commences.

Members are being asked to reserve Thursday afternoon golfing for the men with Wednesday afternoon's to be reserved for women.

Locks PTA Will Elect Officers

Combined Locks — Election of officers will be held at the meeting of the Combined Locks state graded school Parent-Teachers association at 8 o'clock Thursday night at the school.

A film explaining the techniques of teaching fire prevention to children will be shown. There will be a social hour with lunch and refreshments after the meeting.

Justice of Peace Back From Reserve Training

Kimberly — Justice of the Peace Albert J. Van Alphen has returned from a 15-day training session at Truax field, Madison.

Van Alphen is connected with the 960th reserve air squadron of Green Bay. At Madison he served as a master sergeant in the dispensary with the 327th fighter squadron.

The Largest Supercalender Ever made in the United States was shipped Tuesday by Appleton Machine company to a Crown Zellerbach mill in Louisiana. In the upper photograph, one 13½-ton cotton filled roll is being finish-turned in a lathe. The roll is 30 inches in diameter by 250 inches wide. In the photo at right, the world's largest roll press, with a capacity of 3,500 tons to press the cotton filled rolls, is shown. The lower photo shows a part of the 250-inch, 10-roll supercalender aboard a flatcar to begin its journey. A single flat car hauls three pieces of the supercalender, weighing 30 tons. To ship each supercalender (there are two on order), it will take 10 railroad cars and 12 trucks. (Post-Crescent Photos)

Youth Who Had Beer In Car Gets Choice Of Fine, Probation

Dillon L. Pingel, 18, route 3, Clintonville, Tuesday pleaded no contest to a charge of carrying beer in a car in which minors were riding. Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmieg gave Pingel three days to pay a $35 fine or accept a year's probation, which he chooses. County police also charged Pingel with contributing to the delinquency of minors, but Judge Schmieg dismissed the charge, indicating that the first charges covered the offense.

Pingel was arrested about 9:30 Sunday night after County Policeman John Carpenter followed Pingel's car from Bear Creek to an abandoned farm driveway about two miles east of Bear Creek. When Carpenter searched the youth's car, he found two cans of beer partly filled and four cans unopened.

With Pingel were two boys and a girl, all 17 and from Clintonville, and a girl, 16, from Shawano. All minors were turned over to Waupaca Sheriff Floyd Taylor's office for further investigation.

Bothered by Dust, Woman Gives City Some Suggestions

Mrs. Thomas McKenny, 2125 N. Mason street, one of those who complained of dust from the northwest side school site last week, has some suggestions for the council in a thank you letter to Mayor Clarence A. Mitchell filed with the city clerk today.

She suggests that "if anyone be given a contract (we are not opposed to profit from this idle land) it specify the planting of alfalfa or a similar product." There was no problem in the four previous years when alfalfa was planted, she says.

She also suggests "a review might be in order on existing ordinances." No dust ordinance exists and farming within the city is limited to areas zoned for single family residence, conditions she terms ridiculous. Mrs. McKenny and neighbors complained last week to Mitchell that planting of peas on the school site, purchased from Christian Van Den Heuvel, was raising too much dust. Mitchell had planting suspended for a time until he discovered Van Den Heuvel was within his rights because he was given permission to use the land by the board of public works last fall.

"I'd like to publicly thank Mayor Mitchell," she says, "for attempting to help those of us affected by this problem. . . . We feel . . . (we) gave him credit of $13,284,000 against $13,723,000 last year."

Machine Firm Ships Largest Supercalender

Appleton Machine company Tuesday began shipping the largest supercalender ever made in the United States to a Crown Zellerbach mill in St. Francisville, La.

Each of the two 250-inch, 10-roll supercalenders being made weighs 370 tons and it will take 10 railroad cars and 12 trucks to haul each machine. Three pieces weighing 30 tons go on each flat car.

Each stack of the supercalender will contain five cotton-filled rolls and seven spare rolls. Each roll in its steel shipping box weighs 17 tons and will be shipped by truck.

Each bottom roll bearing weighs 5,100 pounds and is 48 inches in diameter. The bottom roll weighs 55 tons.

Each stack will handle rolls of paper 72 by 245 inches. Set up, the supercalenders will be 32 feet wide and 33 feet high. Together they will cost more than $1 million.

'Mercy Dodd' Cast Takes Curtain Call

The Dion Boucicault Melodrama with which the Lawrence theater concludes its season is a fitting choice for the return of Director Ted Cloak from a year's leave of absence. Cloak has been a Boucicault authority for many years, and did extensive research on the Irish dramatist in the British museum during his year abroad. Actors shown above are James Fetterly, Milwaukee, left; Beverly Baldwin, Tomah, and Walter Scott, Oshkosh. Curtain time is 8:15 o'clock.

Legion Auxiliary Names Conference Delegates; Slates Spring Agenda

Delegates to the 35th annual spring conference of the ninth district of American Legion auxiliary slated for Saturday, May 3, at Hortonville were appointed at the Monday evening meeting in the Legion memorial building. They are Mrs. Melvin Maynard, Mrs. Sherman Knapp, Mrs. William Brinkman, Mrs. Ed Arndt, Jr., Mrs. William Maynard, Mrs. Frank Scheidermayer, Mrs. Harry Cunningham, Mrs. Lawrence Withuhn, and Mrs. Oscar Kuhn.

Mrs. Stanley Staidl endorsed Mr. Ed Arndt, Jr., to be candidate for the district office of her preference. Two junior auxiliary girls of Appleton High school, Misses Barbara Dhein and Bonnie Barlow, have been named to represent Appleton at the Badger Girl State held in Madison during the summer.

Calendar Dates
Mrs. Fred Gehrke, child welfare chairman, reported on activities for the past year, stating that 59 children received care in the form of groceries, clothing, and personal visits. Contributions were approved to the special rehabilitation project.

It was announced that reservation for the mother-daughter banquet should be made with Mrs. Richard Bowden by May 2. May 13 is the date scheduled for the Past President's parley at Lammer's Tearoom. The Outagamie council will meet May 20 at Little Chute, members were told. Mrs. Sherman Kapp will receive reservations until May 15.

Friday, May 23 has been designated poppy day, for which the auxiliary has purchased 10,000 poppies. Mrs. Howard Feavel is in charge of the poppy sale with headquarters at the Conway hotel lounge.

A nominating committee was announced, including Mrs.

Lloyd Hardacker, chairman, Mrs. Frank Scheidermayer, Mrs. Eugene Hoffman, Mrs. Oscar Kuhn, and Mrs. Ed Arndt, Jr.

"Let's Take a Trip to Honduras," was the program presented by members of the Pan American group. A lunch, Honduran style, was served and it was voted to send a CARE package of tools or machinery to Honduras.

Modern Art Topic for First Exhibit of AHS Student Work

Sister M. Thomasita, OSF, of Cardinal Stritch college Milwaukee, will be guest speaker for the first annual art exhibit to be held at Appleton High school at 7:30 Wednesday night, April 30.

The Franciscan nun will explore the topic "Modern Art-Traditional?" at a lecture in the AHS auditorium for art students, their parents and guests.

One of America's foremost exponents of contemporary liturgical art, Sister Thomasita is also a noted lecturer and educator. She has shown her work widely in New York, Chicago, Seattle and Dayton.

The exhibit will display for the first time the work of student artists at AHS and is being sponsored by the school's art workshop, directed by Michael Brandt, art instructor. The projects of more than 100 students will be shown in the art corridor on the school's third floor.

The evening's art program will also feature student demonstrations in various fields. Shown will be oil painting, water color, chalk, block printing, etching, wood carving, sculpture, mosaics, jewelry and leather work.

Sister M. Thomasita

Officers of the art workshops are Connie Menning, president; Penny Greiner, vice-president; Sue Zeiss, secretary, and Barbara Gertz, treasurer. There is a total of 215 AHS students in the art program.

Woman Honored At Party Before Flight to Germany

Mrs. John Mitchler was honored at a going-away party recently given by her mother, Mrs. Jack Vanderloop at her Little Chute home. She will leave May 23 when she will fly to Frankfurt, Germany where she will join her husband, Corporal John Mitchler, who is stationed there with the army.

At the party for Mrs. Mitchler, prizes were won by Mrs. Christine Barber, Mrs. Arnold Strick, Mrs. Anton Vanderloop, Mrs. Robert Kobussen, Mrs. James Hartjes, Mrs. Roland Bauer, Mrs. Arnold Vanderloop and Mrs. Emmett Frank.

CYO Sets Skating Party Tonight

The second in a series of roller-skating parties will be staged by the Appleton Catholic Youth organization from 8:30 to 11 o'clock tonight at the Rollerena. Party-goers will be picked up by bus at their respective parishes preceding the event.

The Rev. Joseph Boehm of Sacred Heart Catholic church, is adult adviser for the party.

Mrs. Roy Krause was honored at a pink and blue shower Monday night at her home, 500 Telulah avenue, by 25 friends. Hostesses were the Mmes. Walter Drier and Frank Stein.

Kaukauna Woman Returns From New York

Kaukauna — Mrs. Edmund Grode, route 1, Kaukauna, has returned from a 10-day trip to New York where she visited her son, Kenneth, stationed with the Coast Guard in Brooklyn.

Her son recently returned from a 4-month trip to the Antarctic and currently is stationed aboard the Coast Guard cutter, West Wind. Miss Carol VanderPas, Little Chute, accompanied Mrs. Grode on the trip.

Entire Brahms Symphony To be Given Initially by Lawrence Orchestra

When the Lawrence Symphony orchestra presents its spring concert at the Memorial chapel Sunday night, it will perform a complete Brahms symphony for the first time in the group's history.

This rather surprising fact was discovered by its director, Kenneth Byler, while perusing old conservatory archives to see what music the orchestra had performed before he took over its conductorship in 1948. The classical symphonies of Haydn, Mozart, Beethoven and Schubert had been given frequent readings; but through oversight, personal preference, or lack of orchestral resources, the great works of Brahms in this form had been neglected. Doubtless the outstanding symphonic works of the latter half of the 19th century, they never reached the public performance stage in the long history of the college organization.

The Second Symphony (in D major), which the orchestra will perform Sunday, is perhaps the most delightful of the four that Brahms wrote. Written in 1877, it has a joyful idyllic quality quite in contrast to the essentially tragic nature of the First, the proud strength of the Third and the epic melancholy of the Fourth. Though dubbing the nickname "pastoral" on this symphony would be misleading, tending to minimize its complete meaning, it would have a certain justification for Brahms, as did Beethoven, loved the countryside and he regularly spent his summers in the mountain areas outside Vienna. The gentle and reflective type of writing which we associate with country scenes is to be found throughout this lyrical work.

The concert, which is open to the public without charge, is scheduled for 8:15.

Britain's Lady Docker, whose gold-plated car and public highjinks have made headlines for years, found herself barred Tuesday from Monaco for an alleged insult to the royal family. The wife of millionaire industrialist Sir Bernard Docker is charged by Monacan officials with tearing up a paper Monacan flag in a huff because her son was not permitted to attend the christening reception Sunday for the newborn Prince Albert of Monaco. In Good Taste Invite Only Friends to Shower

BY EMILY POST Dear Mrs. Post: I am uncertain as to how to meet this situation. A relative of my son's fiancée is giving a shower for her and has asked me for a list of names of my friends so that she can send them invitations to this shower. Most of my friends are only slightly acquainted with the bride-to-be and I couldn't dream of asking them to bring a gift to someone they hardly know. I think it would be a gross imposition. What can I say to her without causing ill feeling?

Answer: I quite understand and agree with your point of view and I hope no ill feelings will result from your explaining that none of your friends, who are much older, know your daughter - in-law-to-be well enough to be invited to a shower for her.

John or Mr.? Dear Mrs. Post: When is a friend introduced as John Jones and when as Mr. Jones? This often puzzles me and I would appreciate your setting me straight on this matter.

Answer: Whether or not he is an intimate friend of yours, a man in his thirties or over, is definitely introduced as Mr. Jones. But if he is an intimate friend and also being introduced to other intimate friends, all of whom you call by first name, it would be proper to call him John Jones. If you are all in your teens you would, of course, introduce everyone without titles.

The Yost hair culture system is the development of Edwin G. Yost, scalp specialist of 28 years of experience. It is an easy, practical home-treatment based on knowledge, experience and "know how" in hair.

Unintentionally we invite thinning hair by neglecting to give the scalp that bit of care necessary for normal hair growth. Normal hair grows about 12 inches in 4 years, is then shed and replaced by another hair which goes through the same life cycle if the scalp is healthy.

The road to thinning hair and finally hopeless baldness is well marked by abnormal hair loss — especially short hair loss, itching in some cases, dryness, various forms of dandruff, etc. Heed these warnings. Act now! Treatment is brief — three minutes daily and you'll enjoy it as you see the results in faster, longer, thicker hair growth. The cost is about $2.50 per month. Duration of treatment depends upon the present condition of your hair. Consultation is in private and free — no obligation. Come in and see what you can do about your hair problems now.

South, left strictly to his own guessing ability, guessed wrong, leading a heart, and after that, South was safe even though he didn't guess the trump situation. A diamond opening also would have been fatal to the defense, but the story would have been different if West had been guided to the club lead — assuming, as is reasonable, that declarer made the same losing guess in the trump suit.

The Family Council Is She Widow or Wife if Husband Reported Missing in Action?

Editor's note: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counselors.

Myrna F.—My husband won't return—I want to marry again.

Mrs. L. F.—I am sure he'll come home someday.

Myrna F.—I am a widow of 24 with a terrible problem. My husband was reported missing in action in Korea six years ago and I have been given no reason to hope he will ever return.

I want very much to marry again. I loved my husband, but I have been terribly lonely. Besides, I have a son and I think he should have a father. A very nice man wants to marry me and adopt my son. He can provide us with a nice home and other comforts.

My in-laws are very much opposed to this marriage because they still have hope my husband will return. They have been very good to me and I don't want to hurt them, but how long can I go on like this? I just don't share their hope.

Mrs. L. F.—I just know my son will come home someday. I have had many dreams, vivid as life, that he will walk right in the front door. How will Myrna feel then when she is illegally and immorally living with another man? How will she and he both feel when another man has taken his place as father to the boy?

We are sympathetic with Myrna's loneliness and we have tried to help her by providing her with companionship, free time and treats such as shows and sports events.

We are really shocked that Myrna should consider a thing like this. It would kill us to have our grandson bear another man's name and look upon him as a father. We know the man Myrna wants to marry and he doesn't come anywhere near our son.

The council: There are two separate problems here — a legal and a human one.

The Army's "administrative finding" of death, issued after 12 months, suffices for insurance purposes, but has no bearing on Myrna's marital status.

It does not make her legally free. Her status depends on the state she is living in, and she must consult its laws. In most cases a waiting period of several years is required. Myrna would also be wise to consult a clergyman and get the position of her church in this matter.

If the road to a second marriage is clear from a legal standpoint and if Myrna is clear about her position from a moral point of view, she should deal with her in-laws as gently and firmly as possible. She should not let them play on her feelings in a way that makes it impossible for her to create a new life for herself.

Mrs. L. F. should recognize that, while dreams sometimes do materialize in real life, one cannot accept them as prophecies. They are more likely a fulfillment of wishes. It is cruel to crucify this young woman's future because of a dream.

Surely Mrs. L. F. realizes the companionship and "treats" she provides are mighty poor substitutes for life with a husband.

We do feel, however, out of deference to the feelings of her in-laws and her son Myrna should not permit herself to be adopted. It is natural for the L.F.s to want the boy to bear his father's name.

In later years, if the boy himself wants to be adopted by his stepfather, the matter might come up for consideration again. But it would be best to leave the decision up to him when he understands the many factors to be considered.

Princess Margaret Reassured About Trip Under Niagara Falls

Port of Spain, Trinidad—Princess Margaret was worried when told her Canadian tour this July will include a trip under Niagara Falls.

But then it was explained to her that going under the falls is quite safe, the princess told reporters yesterday. One of them recalled that her sister, Queen Elizabeth II, and her parents had made trips under the falls.

The 27-year-old princess wore a short blue and white afternoon dress in citrus paper taffeta at a meeting with some 200 reporters here for the inauguration of the new West Indies federation parliament. She formally opened the parliament earlier yesterday.

Last night she attended a state dinner for representatives of the 10 Caribbean island colonies forming the new federation. She wore an evening gown of powder blue faille entirely covered with blue and silver lace re-embroidered with silver, diamonds and sapphires.

Temperatures Drop in State Overnight

Appleton registered a low of 37 overnight as temperatures in the state dived to the 20s and 30s. The minimum in the state was 24 at Superior. Other lows were 25 at Grantsburg and 29 at Eau Claire and Park Falls.

Tuesday's highs ranged from 45 at Park Falls to 60 at Lone Rock. Appleton had a high of 52. The temperature at the Wisconsin Michigan Power company's weather station in Appleton at 11:15 this morning was 51, with the wind from the southeast at eight miles an hour.

Skies were generally fair in the extreme northeastern part of the state at mid-morning today, but cloudy elsewhere.

State Forecast
The state forecast calls for rain in the south and possible a little rain or snow in the north tonight and Thursday. It will not be quite so cool over the entire state Thursday. The low tonight will be from 34 to 38 in the north and from 38 to 44 in the south. The high Thursday will be mostly in the 40s.

The 5-day forecast calls for temperatures to average about normal in the eastern part of the state and a little below normal in the west. There will be little change in temperature during the period. The normal high is from 52 in the north-west to 63 in the southeast. The normal low is from 32 in the northwest to 40 in the south-east.

Rainfall during the period will average from one-half to three-quarters of an inch over the state Thursday and in the west tonight. It may be mixed with snow in the north.

Weather Elsewhere
Elsewhere in the nation, the Associated Press reported blustery weather, with snow, rain and strong winds hitting western sections of the country today.

It looked and felt like winter in parts of the Rockies, with snow and freezing temperatures. The storm, which developed over the Rockies, dumped 2 1/2 feet of snow on Red Lodge, in southern Montana. Freezing weather, with rain and snow was reported in wide parts of the state.

More than four inches of snow fell at Sheridan, Wyo., and West Yellowstone, Mont.

The storm belt extended over the Rockies and from Texas to the Canadian border. Warnings were issued for motorists and stock raisers of rain mixed with snow or snow and strong northerly winds.

Rain and thunderstorms developed in the central plains and eastward into Missouri. Strong winds lashed much of the plains and the southern plateau and southern Rockies. Gusts up to 50 m.p.h. struck some areas. Considerable blowing dust was reported in parts of the southern Rockies and eastward into western Texas.

New Ward Store

Oklahoma City — Montgomery Ward and Company has announced plans to build a 200,000-square-foot retail store in the new $8 million Bellevue Shopping Center being constructed in a northwest side suburban area. Construction will begin about Sept. 1, with completion set for March, 1960. Cost was not disclosed.

British Official Says Recession in U. S. Won't be Too Deep

London — The Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Alec Douglas-Home, today said there are signs the recession in the United States won't be too deep.

The chancellor — whose job corresponds roughly to that of secretary of the treasury in the United States — said the U.S. recession "so far has had less effect on us than we at one time feared."

"If that recession went too deep or too long it would be bound to affect us indirectly, very seriously indeed," he told a Constitutional club luncheon.

Daniel Warns Of Serious Red Threat

Madison — A sharp warning that the United States should not underestimate the Soviet Union was issued by an executive of the New York Times Tuesday night.

Clifton Daniel, assistant to the managing editor, was the principal speaker for a Sigma Delta Chi gridiron banquet at the University of Wisconsin.

"Soviet leaders are dedicated communists. They are shrewd, tough and proud, without a trace of doubt in the ultimate triumph of their cause," Daniel said. "We have too long been comforting ourselves with the thought that, if we can only be patient, sooner or later the Soviet system will collapse from the weight of its own misdeeds. Let's not count on it."

Daniel, the husband of the former Margaret Truman, questioned whether "it is sound national policy to spend $250 million for a new automobile model while losing the race to outer space."

If the Soviet Union is able to outstrip the U. S. in the per capita production of meat, butter and eggs, Daniel said, he would have to agree with communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev that the reds had achieved a victory greater than building the hydrogen bomb.

Matthew Molitors to Head Catholic Parents

Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Molitor were named presidents of the St. Joseph Catholic Home-School association Tuesday evening.

Other new officers are Mr. and Mrs. Clair Doerfler, vice presidents; Mr. and Mrs. George Knapstein, board members; and Mr. and Mrs. Karl Langlois, membership chairman.

Also on the program was a student production, "The Bells of Capistrano," with Jonathan Hias, Mary Lawless and Wallace Remminger as narrators. Gail Bellinghausen played the chimera.

May Day Celebration Could Bring New Announcements

BY ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

New York — Is a secret Sputnik III circling the earth, painted black, beeping out its message only over Russia? Is a rocket made in Russia all set to land on the moon? Or has the U.S.S.R. been having rocket launching troubles?

Blakeslee

These are some of the questions asked in a sweepstakes of speculation, all rising from the fact it has been almost six months since Sputnik II rose on Nov. 3.

Why the six months delay in sputniks? Or is the Soviet Union preparing some spectacular new step in their young new space age?

A secret sputnik is possible, says one prominent U.S. rocket scientist.

"The Russians might have been shocked and awed by our reactions when they were first launched with their sputniks," he says. "Maybe they don't want to stir us up anymore, so they're waiting awhile."

"Maybe they even sent up a secret sputnik to continue their scientific work. Paint it black instead of polishing it up, and it would be very hard ever to see. Fix it so it broadcasts only this month, or the time of a summit meeting, on command signal from the summit meeting, ground in Russia, and radio stations elsewhere could miss it entirely."

Scientists Wait

Dr. Wernher von Braun, U.S. Army rocket specialist, expressed a different view.

The Soviets apparently used powerful ocean leaping military rockets, their ICBMs, to send up Sputniks I and II, he says.

Production of ICBMs could well be limited he said. The military has had the call on the subsequent ones, and been testing them. The scientists kind.

Academician Anatoli Blagonravov, a rocket specialist, was quoted in a Soviet radio broadcast as saying the Soviets are close to sending a man up in a rocket with safe return. A one-stage rocket carrying 1 1/2 tons of equipment soared up 295 miles and landed at the planned location, he said.

Another publicly voiced suggestion is the Russians have been shooting for the moon, but missing.

Or even that rockets sending up bigger and heavier sputniks mules and landed at the plan, no prior announcement is made. Some Soviet officials have hinted that it is repetitious and a waste of time just to send up satellites — that after a couple have gone up, the next step is something bigger and bolder. This could be the shot for the moon.

At the other end is speculation the Soviets are saving a big shoot, or a big announcement. This could be the shot for the moon. Soviet scientists and officials have hinted that it is repetitious and a waste of time just to send up satellites — that after a couple have gone up, the next step is something bigger and bolder. This could be the shot for the moon.

May day celebrations, the visit of Egypt's Abdel Nasser late speculation run.

Animal Stories New This Week in Children's Room

A horse and a dog story, each with special appeal to children, have been added this week to the children's room of the Appleton Public Library.

Marguerite Henry has written a story of a tiny black racing colt in "Black Gold," while Walt Disney already has immortalized "Old Yeller" by Fred Gibson.

All new books will be available for circulation Saturday.

The list also includes "The Stowaway" by Amrein, "The Cloud Shoes" by Dahl, "The Hidden Ruin" by Folsom, "The Road to Miklagard" by Treece, "General Brock and Niagara Falls" by Adams, "How Automobiles Are Made" by Cooke, "The Fisherman and His Wife" by Grimm, "The Texas Rangers" by Henry, "The True Book of Deserts" by Posell, "Exploring the Animal Kingdom" by Selsam, "I Want to Be a Postman" by Green, "Over in the Meadow" by Langstaff, "Joji and the Dragon" by Lifton, and "One Is Good But Two Are Better" by Slobodkin.

Community Club Picks Slate of Officers

Some Can Collect Social Security Even If Working Part-Time

Working people of retirement age may be eligible for social security benefits even though they have not retired completely, according to Peter Walraven, manager of the Green Bay district office.

Old age benefits for one or more months would be payable for 1957 if a worker of retirement age earned $2,080 or less for the year, he declared. If 1957 earnings exceeded $2,080, benefits can be paid for any month in which a person of retirement age earned less than $80 as an employee or did not render substantial services as a self-employed person, the manager said.

Marvin Melick Named Youth Division Leader

Menasha Librarian on Community Council's Board of Directors; Succeeds Jerry Smith

Menasha — Marvin Melick, Elisha D. Smith librarian, was named chairman of the Community Council's youth division Tuesday afternoon. He succeeds Menasha Recreation Director Jerry Smith who headed the division the last two years.

Melick, who has been active in youth division work since coming here two years ago, is also on the board of directors of the Community Council.

A follow-up report on the recently published summary of salacious literature in the Twin Cities was presented by Mrs. Ruth Bredendick and discussed by the division.

A new teen activities brochure listing groups and programs available to Twin City youths from 13 to 18 years old was checked prior to being printed. It was announced the Whitening Paper company had donated to the development of the brochure.

Division members also heard reports on the Family Fair program at the Boys Brigade building on May 4 and 5; on the state youth conference at Fond du Lac held early this month, and on new publications regarding training personnel for institutional programs for juvenile delinquents and preventive programs.

The meeting, the final of the year, was held at the YWCA and was the second in a new series of sessions held at places of business of youth division members.

Okay Armory For Oshkosh

$140,000 Building
For Reservists to Be Started in May

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — Construction of an army reserve armory costing about $140,000 is expected to start here in May, according to an announcement by the office of Sen. William Proxmire.

Capt. Vincent Rothe, area commander for the Fond du Lac area, said Oshkosh has four units which now train in leased facilities on Algoma boulevard adjacent to the telephone company office and in the downtown district.

The new armory, which will house 100 men, will be built on Sawyer street near the Oshkosh municipal ball park. The lease of facilities will continue as the new armory will not be sufficient for the number of men to train. It was indicated.

The new building will be about 4,500 square feet in size and of concrete block construction with brick facing. Completion is expected in about a year, Capt. Rothe said.

The four units now training at Oshkosh are a field artillery battery, infantry company, engineer heavy equipment company and military police criminal investigation detachment. They now have a combined personnel of 105 with vacancies to be filled.

Oshkosh — A circuit court jury Tuesday afternoon acquitted Harold Laib, Oshkosh, of ice fishing with three tip-ups. Laib, who was arrested in December while fishing on Lake Butte des Morts by the Highway 41 bridge, was found guilty in municipal court and appealed the conviction to circuit court where the case was heard before Judge H. F. Arps.

Laib contended he was using only two tip-ups although the third one was along for a spare.

Outlines State Plans For High Cliff Park

Area Supervisor Tells Campers Club
Of Eventual 1,100 Acre Development

Neenah — Proposed development of the High Cliff state forest park was outlined to members of the Fox Valley chapter of the National Campers and Hikers association at its meeting Tuesday night at the Whitening Paper company.

T. Smith, area supervisor for the Wisconsin conservation department.

Leonard Matthews, Milwaukee, regional director of the National association, spoke briefly on various camping plans and programs. Announcement was made of the chapter's participation in the family fair at the Boys' Brigade building May 4 and 5.

Next meeting of the chapter will be a camp out at Calumet county park tentatively scheduled for the weekend of May 24.

Future plans for High Cliff park which will extend south to the Calumet county park boundary, Smith outlined. Much of what is planned will take years to develop because of the limitation of state funds.

On Governor's Desk

The state already has about $300,000 invested in the park, much of which was for purchase of the Western Cement and Lime company land. On the governor's desk for approval now is the purchase of the tavern property at the top of the cliff.

As soon as title is obtained, then the state can move into the various areas and develop them for picnicking and for camping and trailer sites, Smith explained.

He commended highly the work of the High Cliff Forest

Infant, Found Unconscious, Dies In Texas Hospital

Kingsville, Texas — An infant who disappeared from her crib Tuesday, was found unconscious a few doors away and died shortly after being rushed to a hospital.

She was Sandra Carrick, daughter of David Carrick of the Kingsville Auxiliary Naval Air Station, formerly of Oshkosh, and Mrs. Carrick.

Peace Justice Tom Simons said the baby's head was badly beaten.

Police Chief B. D. Condon quoted the mother as saying here so they could realize how she checked the infant, five weeks old, then went into the backyard to get the washing. When she returned, she said, the baby was missing. She said she was gone about 15 minutes.

Mrs. Carrick called police and the naval air station house. Development was searched.

Found in Bushes

Diana Smith, 9, found the baby lying in a clump of shrubbery at the corner of another apartment building, about 100 yards from the Carrick home.

The infant was naked and its body bore scratches. Officers said today a pathology report held the child was stomped about the head.

Among persons police were questioning were two small children.

Home Comforts Lacking at Brigade Camp,
But Indian Dance Show Brings Honors

Neenah — "All the comforts of home" are not to be found at the Boys' Brigade international encampment, according to letters received by the parents and wives of the local Brigaders at the Jamaican camp.

Charley Neubauer, writing on the day the camp closed, said "I certainly wish many more boys could have been here so they could realize how we are at home."

On the first Sunday in Jamaica the entire camp journeyed from the rugged camp site to Kingston, the island's capital, where they paraded through the city streets. The sidewalks were thronged with a grotesque mixture of humanity, according to one report.

A chicken dinner awaited the campers on their return, however.

The following day the Canadian and American groups went on an all-day bus trip to Ocho Rios. Enroute they passed through banana, coconut and bamboo forests with a wealth of tropical vegetation.

Smorgasbord Feast

At the Silver Seas hotel a smorgasbord of lamb chops, chicken, roast beef, shrimp, and potato salad, complete with trimmings, awaited them. Dick Dwell, one of the Neenah Brigaders, was heard to remark "Gee, I never had that much even at home."

Three Canadian girls whom the boys met at the hotel accompanied them to the hotel.

Ask 36 Groups To Enter Floats In Boat Parade

Twin City Civic, Fraternal, Youth Clubs Approached

Neenah — Exactly 36 Twin City youth, civic and fraternal organizations have been invited to sponsor floats in the annual Independence day Venetian parade by the Neenah-Menasha Junior Chamber of Commerce.

In issuing the invitation to local organizations to participate in the July 4 boat parade, Charles Schuetz, Jaycee president, noted that "although the event is sponsored by the Jaycees, its success is dependent upon the support of many organizations and business establishments in Neenah and Menasha."

"Consequently we are making an attempt this year to interest a larger number of service groups and other organizations in participating in the boat parade."

Following the "Carnival of Holidays" theme of the festival, each organization entering the parade will select a holiday and follow the holiday's theme in decorating a boat. The boat will be assigned by the boat parade committee of the Jaycees.

The Jaycees are planning to award a trophy and a prize to the organization entering the most outstanding float.

Missionary Society To Attend Spring Meeting at Berlin

Allenville — The Winnebago association Baptist Women's Missionary society spring meeting will be held Thursday at the First Baptist church at Berlin with members attending from the Community Baptist church society.

The BYF members attended the meeting of the Whiting Memorial Baptist church BYF at Neenah Sunday night at which the Rev. Walter Zimmer, an American Baptist missionary to Burma since 1947, spoke and in which was shown the movie "Leap to Heaven," the story of the Rev. Bob Richards, minister and Olympic pole vault champion.

The Men's club has been invited to a rally at the Whiting Memorial Baptist church at Neenah Tuesday evening, April 29.

38 Enroll for Training on Tractor Use

Series of Meetings On Proper Operation Set for 4-H Members

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — A total of 38 members of 4-H clubs in Winnebago county currently are enrolled in the tractor maintenance project which will help them understand the construction, operation and care of the tractors they use on their home farms.

First in a series of four meetings is planned for Thursday evening at the Deniger International Harvester company in Oshkosh, starting at 8 o'clock. During the evening the group is planning a 1-hour tour through the Oshkosh Motor Truck plant, makers of the Oshkosh 4-wheel drive trucks.

Discussions to be included in that meeting will pertain to an outline of the project, tractor safety and the proper use of the operator's manual. An educational film on tractor care is to be shown.

The second in the series will be Thursday evening, May 22, at the Wisconsin Implement company at Gillingham corners. This meeting also will start at 8 o'clock and will include instruction on air cleaners, cooling systems and a discussion of the tractor operator's contest tentatively planned during county fair week. A film on tractor safety will be shown.

Carburetion, Fuels

K. E. Farrell of the Standard Oil company, will discuss carburetion, fuels and lubricants at a meeting set for the Joseph Stadtmueller company here June 26. A movie covering those subjects also will be shown.

Last of the educational meetings will be July 24 at Garvin's Implement building at Omro. Subjects at this evening meeting will entail ignition and the care of tractor tires. The group will see an educational film on the care and operation of spark plugs and also a film covering the operation and care of diesel engines.

Francis Zeller, Jr., route 5 Oshkosh, a 4-H leader, attended a state-wide tractor leaders school recently and will attend the meetings also with the 4-H club agent, Clarence Westfall.

The tractor operators contest tentatively is being planned which will give these tractor project members an opportunity to prove their skill in tractor driving. Events such as driving and backing a 2 and 4-wheel wagon, belting and other practices will be included in such a contest.

Tuesday Club Hears Reappraisal Of Democracy by UW Professor

Neenah — Democracy, its principles, its challenges in a changing world and its necessity were reviewed by a classics scholar for the Woman's Tuesday club Tuesday afternoon at the Boys Brigade building.

"Democracy is a faith in what human beings can do," defined Dr. Walter R. Agard, professor of classics and member of the faculty of integrated liberal studies at the University of Wisconsin.

Seven basic principles of democracy were listed by the professor in his topic, "Democracy Reappraised." Democracy is concerned with respect for individuals said the speaker pointing out a man is important in terms of his capacity to be important. "Christianity is fundamentally a democratic faith" continued Agard and is allied with democracy because of its belief in the importance of the individual.

A second principle listed was the opportunities of life shall be available to all on the basis of their abilities. In applying this principle to education, Agard said ideally colleges are to accept all qualified people and keep them as long as their abilities justify their staying.

Another principle is democracy's interest in the welfare of the whole community and not favoritism for particular groups, he explained. In a democracy decisions in general should be arrived at by the majority and the majority of experts enough and often must have access to facts, listed the professor. No decision is worth more than the information on which it is based, he stated.

Although the majority makes decisions, careful attention is given to the rights of the minority and individual differences and the chief function of a democratic society is educational were his final principles. Democracy's real claim to fame is it educates people better than under any other system, said Agard. He pointed out a fundamental test of democracy is how well it is educating its people.

World Changes

Changes in the world that our democracy faces are the problems we must solve. The United States is now the leading world power; there is a concentration of power, both political and military, than ever before faced; we are living in an age of excessive specialization, and there is an emergence of areas we have never had to deal with before, said the university professor.

In discussing the areas emerging as potential powers, Agard continued, "We can't discount China in the future." India is making strides and Africa, as well as Asia, is emerging, he concluded.

The difficulties for democracy are as their abilities allow, he said.

Sunday School Workshop at Neenah Church

St. Paul Lutheran Host for Program on Christian Education

Neenah — Close to 150 Sunday school teachers and superintendents are expected for a Christian education workshop at St. Paul's Lutheran church here tonight.

Dr. Clarence B. Lund, director of Christian education for the Synod of the Northwest of the United Lutheran church, is in charge of the workshop which will begin at 7:30.

Speaking will be the Rev. Lawrence Reese, Philadelphia, a member of the United Lutheran church's board of education, who will discuss "Family and Church-School Relationships," and the Rev. James Keyser, also of the board of education at Philadelphia, who will discuss "Leadership and Teacher Training."

The group then will go into departmental sessions for discussions on the Christian growth courses of instruction.

Churches to be represented are Trinity Lutheran and Our Savior's Lutheran of Appleton, St. Timothy Lutheran of Menasha, Our Savior's Lutheran of Fond du Lac, St. John's Lutheran of Oshkosh and St. Mark's and St. Paul's Lutheran churches of Neenah.

A fellowship social will close the program.

Two Town Boards Consider Lights At Hy. 10 Corners

Menasha — Members of the town of Menasha board met with the town of Harrison board members at the latter's hall Monday night to consider installing mercury vapor lights at two highway intersections.

Proposed for the lights are the Waverly beach corner where Highways 10 and 114 intersect and the old Manitowoc road crossing with Highway 10.

Residents of the town of Menasha at their annual meeting April 1 instructed the town board to survey the possibility of installing mercury vapor lights at those two corners and several other corners in the township, particularly at five Midway road crossings, Highway 47, Highway 10, at the George Banta company plant, at Earl street and at County Trunk P.

A light also has been requested for the intersection at the Highway 114 curve just outside Menasha.

Set Work Days at Archery Course

Neenah — The Winnebago Archers will hold work and cleanup days at their field course, south of Neenah, all day Saturday and Sunday. Some of the archers are planning to camp at the course overnight Saturday.

The annual golf archery meet will be held May 24 and 25 at the Mount Morris, Wis., course.

Grange Approves Proposed By-Laws

Allenville — New by-laws were adopted at Friday night's meeting of the Allenville Grange. It also voted to observe Go to Church Sunday May 18 at the Community Baptist church here with a picnic at the Grange hall after the service.

South Greenville Grange will present an exchange program May 16. A polluck lunch was served by the Julius Muelers and Alvin Jensens.

The Juvenile Grange also met Friday night and heard reports of the conference at Crystal Lake Grange April 12 which were given by Ellen Rae Foth, Cheryl Becker, Luann Ihde and Mrs. Millard Ihde, matron. The juveniles will present a program for the Subordinate Grange at the May 2 meeting. The Ihde family will have charge of the bulletin board for June.

Neenah Netmen Notch 6-1 Win Over Central

Rockets Cop All Singles Matches; Lose No. 2 Doubles

Neenah — Copping all five singles matches and the No. 1 doubles event, Neenah bested Sheboygan Central 6-1 here Tuesday afternoon for its fourth straight tennis win of the spring.

The defending state champions, with three sophomores in the starting singles lineup, again played without their No. 1 man, Ed Meyer, who is expected to be out of action for at least another week with a hand ailment.

Other Neenah winners were Jack Ankerson over Wally Trester 2-6, 6-1, 6-0, Dale Mrotek over John Meyer 6-0, 3-6, 6-4 and Judd Koehn over Bob McDonald 6-2, 6-0. Ankerson and Mrotek also are sophomores.

In doubles play, Koehn and Reiersen topped Klistner and McDonald 6-0, 6-4 while Mrotek and freshman Steve Price lost to Luebner and Meyer 8-6, 6-3. Paul Valente of Neenah topped Earl Wittstock of Central 2-6, 6-3, 6-4 in an exhibition singles match and Trester and Wittstock turned back John Whitney and Ollie Hoppe 6-2, 1-6, 6-1 in a non-counting doubles match.

Neenah will make its next start Saturday morning at Wauwatosa. Six singles and three doubles will be used to determine the final score.

Olejnuk Hits 604 Count for League High

Menasha — Richard Olejnuk clipped a 604 series and Carl Mittag fired a 224 game to split honors in the Twin City Industrial Bowling league at Mid-Town Tuesday night. Mittag finished with 570 and Olejnuk had a 223 line.

Dom Wilayat posted 221-205-598, Carl Babbitts 215, N. P. can 214, Norm Schimmelpfening 213-582, Art Weber 213-550, Alan Laux 210, N. Beyer 210-206, Clarence Karow 206, Tom Steinfort 205-201-585, Wally Bylaws 204, Al Chounard 204, Merle Wichman 204-566, Bob Hanson 202, Bob Hafemeister 201 and Ron Merkley 200.

Marathon Canal Street Plant leads with a 60-27 record. Marathon Main Office has 56-31, Banta's 53-34, Gilbert Paper 52-35, Marathon Carton Plant 51-35 and Menasha Wooden Ware Plant 47-40.

Returns to Practice

Neenah — Dr. T. D. Smith has returned to his practice at 211 E. Wisconsin avenue after an absence of three months due to serious illness. He was confined at Theda Clark hospital for more than a month.

Smarzinski Clubs 674; Quayle 289 in Neenah City Wheel

Bert Voss Hammers 668 Set; Milliken Crashes 632 Score

Neenah — Chet "Cash" Smarzinski powered a 674 series and Elmer Quayle fired a whopping 289 game to split honors in the Neenah City Bowling league Tuesday night at Muench's.

Quayle fired strikes in the first 10 frames in his big game. He closed with a 624 count. Smarzinski rolled lines of 213-215-246 in his big series.

Bert Voss claimed runnerup series honors with his 658, which included games of 667 and 222.

"Nubs" Milliken hit 209-232-632, Dick Schnoor 210-201-216-627, Jim Haack 265-619, and Al Muench 225-205-605.

Jitter's Leads

High 500 sets included Charles Munsche 249-599, Jack Asmus 202-599, Wally Selnow 253-597, Hal Ganzel 244-588, Wes Saecker 224-587, Earl Haase 210-582, Herb Kramer 230-581, and Jerry Llewellyn 214-577.

John's Food clipped a 1,083 game and Hewitt Machines rolled 2,967 trio for the peak team performances.

Jitter and Joe's won two games and leads with a 61-38 record. John's Food, another 2-game winner, has 581-401 for second and Haase and Drews is third with 58-41.

Other high records include Schabo and Son and Star Bar 541-441, Central Brass 54-45 and Kiefer Clothing 53-46. Menasha Furniture and Eagles were the only teams winning three games.

Rocket Cindermen Topple Jays 77-41

Neenah Slams 3 Events; Syring Sets School Mark in Shot Put; Sobiesczyk Tops MHS Scorers

Menasha — Sweeping 26 of a possible 27 points in the three distance runs plus a grand slam in the pole vault, Neenah went on to a 77-41 win over Menasha in their annual dual here Tuesday afternoon. For Neenah it was its first start of the year and Menasha's initial loss after a dual and triangular win.

In addition to the pole vault slam, the Rockets captured all three places in the 440 and 880 and added a first and second in the mile. Menasha's best showing came in the broad jump where it took eight of a possible nine points.

Double Winners

Neenah's Ralph Syring and Fred Seggelink and Jerry Sobiesczyk of the Bluejays were the only double winners.

Syring set a new school record in the shot put when he threw the iron ball 46 feet, 5 inches, exceeding the old standard of 45 feet, 10 inches established by Lee Parrott back in 1948.

The Rocket senior also added a win in the discus with a throw of 120 feet, 6 inches. Menasha's Chuck Weber was second in both events, throwing 41 feet, 9 inches in the shot and 115 feet, 1 inch in the discus.

Cops Both Dashes

Sobiesczyk won both the 100 and 220 yard dashes. He took the 100 in 10.9 and the 220 in 24.5. The second and third spots were the same in both races with Neenah's Ed DenDooven second and Tom Stepanski of Menasha third, giving the Jays six points in each event.

Seggelink won the high jump with a leap of 5 feet, 7 inches. Because of the cold weather, he didn't attempt to go any higher. "Rocky" Jersild of Menasha was second.

Seggelink and teammates Dick Geiger and Jerry Hensen tied for first in the pole vault. The trio didn't attempt to go any higher than 8 feet, 6 inches since all of the Menasha vaulters had bowed out by that time.

Wins Broad Jump

In addition to Sobiesczyk's two wins, the Jays picked up two other firsts. Jersild got the hosts off to a good start with a first in the high hurdles. His time was 16.6 seconds. Sophomore Jerry Schaefer, promising Neenah hurdler, was second.

Ron Haass leaped 18 feet, 11 inches to win the broad jump. Stepanski was second with 18 feet, 6 inches and Hensen gave Neenah its point with a third on a jump of 18 feet, 23 inches.

Neenah's fine miler, Jim Quade, won his specialty with ease in 4:49.9. His brother, Henry, was second and Larry Russell of Menasha took third. The milers and all of the other runners were hampered by a strong wind.

Half Mile Sweep

Wayne Rudolph, Howard Thorpe and Ralph Frank gave Neenah three places in the half mile. The winning time was 2:09.7. Frank came fast on the last half lap to spring past Menasha's Larry Wright.

Eric Anderson, who ran the medley relay last year, copped the 440 in 56.3. Hector Fischer, conference half mile champion and a surprise starter in the quarter mile, was second and the sweep was completed by Tom Drews' third. He sprinted to edge Menasha's Bob Frederick.

Low Hurdles

Neenah's Jim Miller won the low hurdles in 23.4 with Jim Funk of Menasha second.

The Rockets won both relays. The sprint event was the closest with anchorman Anderson edging Sobiesczyk by a couple of yards. Den Dooven, Mel Bayer and Fischer were the first three runners. The medley unit won by about 40 yards. Bayer and Dan Jack were the sprinters, Bill Meyer the quarter miler and sophomore Mike Lintner the anchorman.

GOC Closes Post Except for Alerts

Menasha — Some misunderstandings have apparently developed over the present status of the Neenah-Menasha ground observer corps, Morris Kuchenecker, chief observer, said today.

The post is now on a "stand by" notice only and unless former and present members of the observer corps are specifically notified of a practice alert for a specific time, no one is to be in the observer post building, he explained.

Those found in the observer post building which is on top of Marathon's River street office could be subject to prosecution for trespassing.

Present, Future" and Jeanette Mattern, who will sing a solo. Tickets for the dinner are available at the Extension center office at 136 Main street.

Three Big 10 championships, one National Collegiate Athletic association title and three runnersup in Big 10 play are the highlights in Foster's career.

Foster received an additional honor this week when he was named to the Hall of Fame rules committee. The state university cage mentor entered Wisconsin in 1926, was an all-conference center in 1929 and 1930 and an All-American in 1930. After playing professional ball with Chicago and the Oshkosh All-Stars, in 1933 he returned to Wisconsin as freshman coach and he took over the varsity the next year when Dr. Walter E. Meanwell resigned.

The 1941 club won its last 15 games to snare both the conference and NCAA crown and in 1946-47 the Badgers finished third in the Eastern NCAA regional meet in New York.

Plan Program For Menasha Extension Fete

Appleton, Neenah, Menasha Students To Participate

Menasha — The program for the dinner honoring the Menasha Extension basketball team was announced today. The fete will be held at 7 o'clock Thursday evening at the Menasha hotel. Harold "Bud" Foster, University of Wisconsin basketball coach, will be the main speaker.

David Van Wyck of Appleton will be the master of ceremonies. "A Freshman Raises His Voice" will be given by James Kobs. Menasha, and Patricia Randall of Neenah will discuss "A Girl's Eye View of Sports."

Tickets Available

Others on the program are Robert Wege, Neenah, who will give "To His Majesty the Basketball Man;" Thomas Schmitt, Kaukauna, "Past, Present, Future"

Zephyrs Seek Second Victory Over Brillion

Menashans Take 1-1 Record Into Thursday Clash

Menasha — St. Mary tries to lift its percentage above the .500 mark when it travels to Brillion Thursday afternoon for a return game against Coach Jerry Schmidt's Lions.

The Zephyrs got their season kosh, too, Saturday but injured to a good start a week ago Tuesday when they edged the Brillionites 4-3 on an unearned run in the bottom of the seventh inning.

They saw their record squared at 1-1 with a 12-4 loss to the Oshkosh Saturday afternoon.

For Brillion, it will be its fourth game within a 15-day period against a Menasha shans, probably will work for squad. The Lions were defeated by Menasha on April 9 and ball against Menasha high 16 in addition to meeting St. Mary.

Menasha High Tennis Squad Tackles Bays

Bid for Fourth Successive Win Against Cadets

Menasha — Coach Leo Kenney's Menasha tennis squad goes after its fourth straight win of the spring Thursday afternoon when it entertains Premontre High school of Green Bay.

The Bluejays chalked up No. 3 Tuesday afternoon when they swept a 6-1 decision over Appleton. Previous victims were Kimberly and West Green Bay, both of whom bowed by 7-0 scores.

Likely Menasha starters are sophomores Jim Stenson and Tom Krysiak, juniors Nick Farrell and Bob Hodkiewicz and senior Jim Cronin. Stenson has been playing the No. 1 spot with Cronin, Hodkiewicz, Farrell and Krysiak in the next four.

Stenson and Cronin and Hodkiewicz and Krysiak are expected to form the two doubles teams.

The Jays trimmed the Cadets 8-1 in last year's meeting. Jim Cibula scored Premontre's lone win, besting Cronin. Cibula is back again this year.

Menasha victors were Hodkiewicz, Bob Adams, Stenson, Krysiak and Leonard Paulowski in singles and Stenson-Adams, Hodkiewicz-Krysiak and Cronin-Den Remmel in doubles.

Wayne Huebner, pitcher-outfielder.

In addition to Huebner, graduation claimed catcher Doug Seidler, first baseman Larry Magadan and outfielder Dave Anderson.

Fine Pitching

Coach Carl Steffen's Jays have been getting some brilliant pitching from Ken Konezke and Gordy Selbach plus some timely hitting. The two pitchers have only allowed three runs in three games.

Likely starters for the Menashans are Konezke or Selbach on the mound; Jim Wilde, first base; Konezke or Bill Gammy, second base; Dave Robinson, shortstop, and Don Nelson, third base, with Tom Remmel, Dave Neubauer and the outfield. Jerry Kosloski is the catcher.

For the Jays, it will be the first of two games in three days. They open Mid-Eastern conference play against Two Rivers at home Saturday afternoon. Thursday's test will be the final non-conference game of the spring.

Four Teams Represented at Menasha Softball Meeting

Menasha — Four teams were represented at the initial meeting of the Menasha Church Softball league Tuesday night at the Memorial building.

They were St. John, Ken Mattern; St. Timothy, Jim Chew; Trinity, Bill Page, and the First Congregational. Henry Griesbach, St. Mary and Beth-hurlers had already been proclaimed, last year's other two entrants, weren't heard from. Bob Leather balls may be used under agreement of both managers and managers were re-elected on the recreation board's policy forbidding league games to be used as benefit games.

The circuit will hold its annual practice round on May 8 and will play two rounds of seven games each. Additional teams have until May 1 to enter. The all-star game will be played Sunday, June 29.

Amend Rule

The circuit again will play on the Sixth street playground. Seventh street playground and Smith park diamonds and there is a possibility that games will be played on Thursday nights with rainouts scheduled for the next Tuesday instead of Tuesday night play and Thursday makeups as in the past.

Tom Kosloski Leads Menasha Bowlers in Police Tournament

Menasha — Tom Kosloski rolled a 215 game and 578 series to lead Menasha police bowlers at the Wisconsin Policemen's Protective association bowling tournament at De Pere Sunday.

The three Menasha teams had series of 2,220, 1,973 and 1,837.

Kenosha posted 2,715 for tops among the 46 competing squads. Superior had 2,656 for second and Green Bay was third with 2,642. Individual honorees went to George Sharon of Superior with a 246 game and "Jump" Jenkins of Madison on a 623 series.

Foxes Arrive Home, Point For Three-I Loop Opener

Will Stage Several Drills Here

Post-Crescent Sports Editor

During the six months that Fox Cities baseball officials and fans have been laying the foundation for a new and faster brand of organized ball (Class B), that most important of all ingredients — the ballplayer — was only a theoretical factor. That is no longer the case. The Foxes are here—in the flesh.

The Fox Cities' first Three-I league ball club—or at least the vanguard of it—arrived Tuesday.

Within Touching Range

Although the chilly breezes seemed more intent on setting the stage for football than any other sport, somehow the appearance of the ball players (heretofore only names on a roster) seemed to bring the baseball season within touching range.

Outside of appearing slightly uncomfortable, we otherwise, after having come from predominantly balmy Florida, the players were in excellent spirit and seemed to enjoy their new surroundings. The auto trip from Fernandina Beach, Fla., took two days.

Manager Pete Suder brought 11 players with him. The other eight were permitted to stop off at home enroute north.

They were all due to report today with the exception of pitcher Al Guenther, whose father died Monday. The young bonus pitcher is expected to miss the "Welcome Foxes" banquet Thursday night, and it's not known whether he'll rejoin the team here or go directly to Iowa for the first series of the season.

Suder scheduled the first workout for 1 o'clock this afternoon at the South Side Athletic club diamond, S. Lave street. Goodland field isn't quite ready yet.

There'll probably be another workout Thursday before the team is formally introduced to area fans at the big banquet (6:30 at night) in the Appleton Elks club.

Return May 3

Travel plans are not complete, but it is probable that the Foxes will leave Saturday for their season opener at Davenport. They play two series in Iowa before returning here for their May 3 home debut against Cedar Rapids.

The first arrivals included outfielders Tom Palamar, Hilario Valdespino and Julio Castro; first baseman Tom Taylor; pitchers Ernie Stinsa, Gary Mitchell, Bill O'Donnell, Ted Sadowski, Rene Nodarse and

'Tex' Taylor Figures To Have Steady Influence on Foxes

1st-Baseman Has Had Several Big Pro Seasons

Post-Crescent Sports Editor

Tom Taylor, 25-year-old Texan with a college degree in his pocket and winning baseball on his mind, figures to cover the initial bag fashionably for the Fox Cities Foxes this season. The 6-foot, 170-pound Taylor, who is left-handed all the way, was one of the Foxes' most consistent hitters in Florida exhibitions. He figures to have a steady influence on the club's younger players.

First of Series

Taylor, who likes to be called "Tex," is an extrovert (aren't all Texans?) whose ready wit makes him popular with his mates.

Earns Degree

The wool is still fresh on Taylor's sheepskin. He received a B. S. in physical education from Baylor university in February. Tom, who signed a pro pact with the Pittsburgh Pirates as a freshman in 1951, completed his education the hard way. He earned his credits primarily in the off-season, and because of a 2-year army hitch, wasn't able to cross the academic home plate until '58.

In 1951, with Bartlesville, Okla., in the Class "D" K-O-M league, Taylor hit .351. A year later, with St. John, Quebec, in the Class C Provincial league, he hit .308 and was named to the league all-star team.

Taylor had a chance to play ball during his 1953-4 army career—and he played in some fast company. His base's 1953 team won the national semi-pro title at Wichita. Among the other members of the team were Jerry Lumpe, now with the Yanks; "Whitey" Herzog, of the Senators; and Eddie Kaso, of the Cards.

Bob Schmidt, former pro player and Fox River Valley league pitcher, was a member of the same team.

In the late stages of the '54 season, he got out of service and played with Waco, of the Big State league and hit five homers in the final month for the pennant winners. Tom calls it his best homer pace. He is primarily not a power hitter.

.327 at Kingston
Taylor was back for a full season in organized ball in 1955 when he hit .327 for Billings, Mont., of the Class C Pioneer league. As a result of being voted the most popular player on that club, Taylor was presented with a television set. He calls it one of the most satisfying moments of his career.

With Kingston in the Class B Carolina league in 1956, "Tex" was a double threat. He hit .325 and managed the club for the last 14 months.

Last year, Taylor stayed in school until June and his late start was contributory to his first sub-.300 year. He played

Buhl Earns Second Win Of Campaign

Cincinnati —(AP)—Lanky Lew Burdette of the Milwaukee Braves—a stalwart young man who has tamed the Cincinnati Redlegs 14 times in his baseball pitching career—planned to do it again tonight.

Burdette won his first strong start of the season, a 6-1 triumph over Pittsburgh, giving up only seven hits in the process.

But it was a 3-run homer by Hank Aaron and smooth clutch pitching by Bob Buhl that worked for Tuesday's 5-2 Milwaukee triumph over Pittsburgh.

Homers Off Kline

Aaron's homer came off Pirate starter Ronnie Kline in the fourth inning after a walk to Bob Hazle and a single by Eddie Mathews. Milwaukee collected two more runs in the seventh inning on a trio of singles from Johnny Logan, Del Rice and Red Schoendienst.

Rice was the man responsible for three of Milwaukee's nine hits.

Buhl gave 10 hits to the Pirates, walking only one and striking out four in earning his second victory of the season. Double plays by the Braves bailed him out of a trouble spot on three different occasions.

It was the second loss of the season for Pittsburgh's Kline—and the second time that a home run swat made the difference. On Pittsburgh's opening day, Vada Pinson handed Cincinnati a 4-1 victory with a four-run blast.

The start of a potential Milwaukee scoring surge was snuffed out in the fifth inning. Rice led off with a double, then Buhl knocked one to keep left center and Billy Virdon caught the ball on a diving overhand catch and fell on his shoulder. Bob Clemente nipped Schoendienst's powerful liner and threw to Dick Groat to double Rice off second.

Pittsburgh scored its runs in the sixth and seventh inning. A double, an error and then a single by Clemente accounted the outfield for Wilson in the Carolina league. It was his first experience at a position other than first base — and he's glad to be back "home" again this year.

Taylor, who was married in July, 1956, hopes to get a job as a teacher-coach after the playing season. He already has had valuable coaching experience. He directed the Baylor university freshman baseball team last spring.

In high school, Taylor played baseball and basketball.

Menasha Wins 3rd Straight Tennis Match

Jays Score 6-1 Triumph Over Terrors

Menasha — Menasha swept to its third straight tennis win of the spring by turning back Appleton, 6-1, here Tuesday afternoon.

The Terrors' lone winner was Marty Semmelhack at the No. 4 spot, a 1-6, 6-2, 6-3 winner over Nick Farrell.

Both Appleton doubles teams extended their conquerors into extra sets before succumbing. Fred Jungers and John Zimmerman bested Jim Stenson and Jim Cronin 9-7 in the first set but were defeated in the next two.

At No. 2 doubles, the Jays' Bob Hodkiewicz and Tom Krysiak won from Charles Riley and Semmelhack.

Other Menasha winners were sophomore Stenson, Cronin, Hodkiewicz and Krysiak.

Cubs Lose, 4-2, Fall Into Tie With Braves

By The Associated Press

Johnny Podres, the Los Angeles Dodgers' stubby, south-pawed pitcher, hasn't lost a touch against the Chicago Cubs, but he can't seem to shake an injury jinx.

The stocky kid whose curve ball change-up carried the Dodgers to their lone world championship in the 1955 World Series with the New York Yankees hasn't had an unblemished year in the majors. Now a recurrence of last year's elbow trouble has him tied again.

Beats Out Hit
Podres may not be serious, but he has cost him a shutout by being hit his second Tuesday night with a 4-2 decision over the Cubs—a club that hasn't beaten him in five decisions since he came up in 1953.

Podres didn't allow a hit for 5 2/3 innings. Then Tony Taylor beat out an infield hit in the sixth and Ernie Banks measured the nearby left field seats for his third home run.

In the seventh, Podres called it quits because of the elbow. The Chicago defeat, coupled with Milwaukee's 5-2 victory at Pittsburgh, hoisted the world champion Braves into a share of first place with the Cubs for the first time this season. The St. Louis Cardinals defeated San Francisco, 7-5, in land for the fourth time in five tries Tuesday, 9-6. Detroit was outlit 9-8, but backed up Billy Hoefft with five extra-base blows for an 8-2 decision over the White Sox. The Tigers are 4-1 vs. Chicago.

Yanks Open Up
The Yankees opened up for the first time, bombing Boston 12-7 for their sixth straight. Baltimore beat Washington, 4-2.

The A's, tops in the AL with 11 home runs in seven games, clinched their third straight on Cerv's 3-run shot in the seventh. Cleveland's Rocky Colavito and Chico Carasquel hit two-run homers. Cerv, scampering for an inside-the-park homer in the third, has hit all four of his '58 homers against Cleveland.

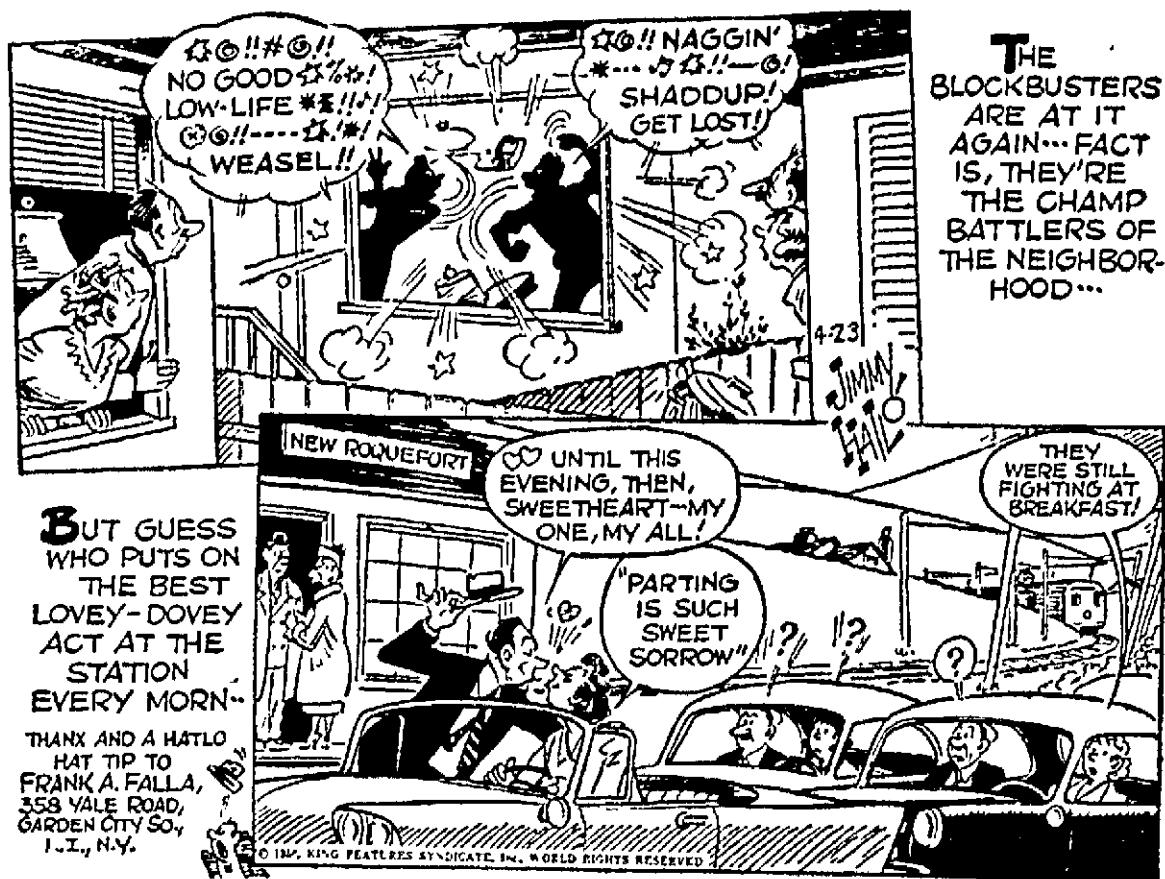

Billy Hunter's home run gave the A's a 3-0 lead in the second after Chuck Churn relieved Bob Lemon. The veteran right-hander, in his first start since a winter elbow operation, gave three hits in the first, and left when he gave up two more in the second. Ned Garver won his second, with relief from Bud Daley and Tom Gorman.

Hoefft went all the way in his first victory as the Tigers tore into Early Wynn for four runs in the first, three on Charlie Maxwell's homer. Hoefft gave up a home run to Jim Landis, but struck out six and used a slow curve to choke the Sox, who left 10 on base for the second straight day.

Seven runs in the fourth, on three triples and Gil McDougald's home run, bagged it for the Yankees, who also got a two-run homer from Norm Siebern in the eighth. Tom Sturdivant won it, but needed Ryne Duren's relief for the last two outs after Sammy White's two-run homer.

Jack Harshman, the former White Sox southpaw, won his second for the Orioles with Billy O'Dell's relief. Brooks Robinson had three of the Birds' seven hits, one his second homer. Jack Lumentil lost it.

Ron Bloodworth; and utilityman Bob Tano.

These who have yet to arrive, besides Gunther, are pitchers Dick Griffith and Bill Felker; catchers Bob Payne and Ed Raczynski; and infielders Navarro Ramon Davis, Addie Hintze and Bob Van Dyke.

The Foxes all stayed at a hotel last night. Housing in private homes will be arranged for before the start of their first road trip.

Suder revealed that Sadowski would be the likely opening day pitcher at Davenport. Sadowski is the only one to go the route in camp. He allowed four runs in a 9-inning tie game last Friday—but all of them were unearned.

Compile 6-2-1 Record
The Foxes did not play a game on their final day in camp, leaving their overall exhibition record at 6-2-1.

Suder, looking lean and fit as he was in his playing career when he ranked as one of the American league's better glove men, was favorably impressed by his initial look at Goodland field. At first, he was a bit concerned about the absence of an outfield fence, but he was assured work is progressing well on it, and the barrier would be up before long.

Suder and the players were met at the ball park by Club President Ray McClone; Business Manager Pete Suder; Clubhouse Manager George Stewart; and E. W. Grover, "Bud" Koehnke and Jerry Olm, of the Appleton Recreation department, who have helped on the park improvement project.

Iola 3, Manawa 6.

Today's Game:

Weyauwega at Waupaca.

Weyauwega — The Bonduel and Marion High school teams won their second straight Central Wisconsin conference baseball games Tuesday afternoon.

Marion handed Amherst its first loss, 4-2. Bonduel blanked Wittenberg, 2-0. Iola squared its record at 1-1 with an 8-6 triumph over Manawa. The Weyauwega-at-Waupaca game was scheduled for this afternoon.

Marion right-hander Bill Radies took the victory on a 5-hitter, striking out eight and walking two. Loser Terry Anderson struck out 13 in his 5th and one-third inning stint but he walked seven.

Scores 4 in 6th

Marion scored all of its runs in the sixth after entering the frame one run behind. Ernie Pevonka walked and Lyle Bailey singled. J. Radies flied out.

Pevonka scoring after the catch. Schmidt and Mike Bettow walked to load the bases.

John Guyant came in to pitch. Ken Wolff beat out an infield hit, the lead run scoring. Terry Balderson singled home the final two runs.

Bonduel's Ken Tischer got the win over Wittenberg but was relieved by Jerome Herb. Bonduel scored both runs off loser Dan Tratz in the third.

Tischer singled and stole second. After two men were retired, Dennis Bahr singled to plate Tischer. Wayne Kroll walked, and Jerry Senzig doubled in the second run.

Iola's Jim Helgeson allowed six hits, struck out 13 and walked four in his route-going performance. Ken Groholski worked the first 5 and one-third innings and took the loss. He was relieved by Tom Dorcas.

Iola scored twice in the second, three times in the third and thrice in the sixth. Manawa scored two in each of the fifth, sixth and seventh frames and had the bases loaded in the seventh when Helgeson got the final out on a whiff.

Nino Valdes Favored Over Mike Dejohn

Syracuse, N. Y. — Young Mike Dejohn, in his first test since his brilliant first-round knockout of Alex Miteff last October, tonight meets experienced Nino Valdes of Havana.

The winner of the 10-round nationally televised bout may demand a heavyweight championship match with Floyd Patterson.

The 24-year-old Syracusan, boosted from the preliminaries to match Miteff, took 77 seconds to give the Argentinian the first knockout of his career and then soared to eighth place in the heavyweight division.

Inactivity since has cost Dejohn his place in the top ten and some observers are wondering whether he has not overstepped himself in taking on Valdes. The Cuban heavyweight, 34, has met the best of the heavyweight division.

Valdes is an 8-5 favorite to night.

Henry Aaron Says He's Ready To Start 'Bearing Down'

Pittsburgh — Henry Aaron grinned and said, "Those guys who are on top now had better move over. You can tell 'em for me that Henry's ready."

"The Braves' homer-hitting outfielder, who finished the year, 1957 season with a .322 average, currently is eighth among the league's batters with seven hits, including two homers, in 27 times at bat.

Aaron stepped up his pace with a single and a key home run Tuesday in the Milwaukee Braves' 5-2 victory over the Pirates.

Commenting later about the ball real good again, and my uplift in his batting average, timing's fine now."

Girard, Reinke To Play in UW Grid Game

Madison — The University of Wisconsin reported today that former Badger football players Earl Girard and Bob Konovsky expect to play in the annual alumni-varsity game at Milwaukee May 17.

Girard played end with the professional Pittsburgh team in 1957 and Konovsky is a tackle with the Chicago Cardinals.

Others added to the alumni roster, the university said, include halfbacks Bill Hutchinson, and John Bridgeman, quarterback Jim Miller, ends Jim Reinke (of Appleton) and Ron Larkin, tackle Dave Suminski and centers Gary Messner and Mike Cwayna.

Oscar Damman, ticket sales manager, reported that sales of tickets have been good.

The game is set for 1:30 in Milwaukee County stadium.

Carter, Hennessey Win National Pin Doubles Title

Mountainside, N. J. — The St. Louis combination of Don Carter and Tom Hennessey has captured the national doubles bowling championship and top prize money of $2,000.

The Carter-Hennessey team defeated second placed Ed Lubanski and Lee Jougard of Detroit in the final two matches Tuesday night, winning by a convincing 81-point margin at the Echo Lane alleys here.

This was the first doubles title for Carter, winner of the national individual championship four times and a member of the national team champions twice.

Glenn Allison rolled the best individual game of the finals with a 279. He and teammate Joe Kristoff finished in last place, however.

School Officials Say There Was No
Illegal Recruiting

Auburn, Ala. — The Southeastern conference executive committee will hear a report which Auburn officials say proves that Auburn is innocent of illegal football recruiting.

The school which last year won the No. 1 Associated Press football rank was penalized just 11 days before an earlier suspension was to be lifted.

The NCAA council announced the verdict at New Orleans Monday. Auburn officials deny there was any wrong-doing, but did not indicate whether they intend to appeal to the next NCAA convention.

Present Their Side

It took Athletic Director Jeff Beag and Dr. Ralph B. Draughon, Auburn president, more than two hours Tuesday to present their side of the story to newsmen.

The Birmingham News quoted NCAA Executive Director Walter Byers in a telephone call from Kansas City as saying that Auburn gave newsmen "just one side of the evidence."

Gen. Troy Middleton, president of the Southeastern conference, said at Baton Rouge, La., that the SEC executive committee would grant Draughon a hearing.

Auburn was barred from participating on both post-season bowl games and NCAA title competition until September, 1961.

The NCAA said its action was based on complaints that illicit financial aid had been offered freshman quarterback Don Fulen for both himself and his family.

N-S Medalist Wins Opening Match, 4 and 3

Defending Champion Bill Campbell Also Stays in Running

Pinehurst, N. C. — The day was wicketed Wednesday in the North and South Amateur golf tournament—the day 32 survivors of opening rounds faced two more rounds to pare the field to eight for quarter-finals Thursday morning.

Eighteen hole matches leave little margin for error and playing two in a day is hazardous for even the most accomplished.

The initial skirmishing was devoid of major surprises, leaving the medalist, the defending champion and three other members of last year's Walker cup team heading the pack.

Wayne Jackson, the Army private first class from Hampton, Va., who won the medalist, swept the last four holes with pars against Bill Williamson of Charlotte to win, 4 and 3.

Campbell Plays Durham

That qualified him for a second-round meeting this morning with Walter Seena, a 4-handicapper from Greenville, Del.

The winner faced an afternoon match with the survivor of a morning duel between Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., and Herb Durham of Dallas, Tex. Campbell, winner last year, is after his fourth North and South crown.

Dale Morey of Indianapolis, 1955 Walker cupper, went against Arnold Blum of Macon, Ga., member of the '57 team.

Also in the upper half of the draw, bouncy Billy Joe Patton of Morgantown, N. C., was pitted against a dangerous foe—Howard Ewert of Northfield, N. J., whom he defeated in a 1-up thriller several years ago.

The sharpest shooter of the first round, Bill Thornton of the University of North Carolina and Jupiter, Fla., was set against Jack Penrose, a veteran sharpie from Miami, Fla.

Charlie Smith of Gastonia, N. C., three under par in stopping Dr. Wendell Aldrich of Angola, Ind., 5 and 4, moved against John Guenther of Reading, Pa.

Heading the lower half of the draw was the match between Dick Chapman of Pinehurst and Richard Whiting of Lathrop Village, Mich.

Charles Dueley, 1947 North and South winner from Greenville, took on Walter Peck of New Rochelle, N. Y.

Bill Hyndman, 1957 Walker cupper, met Lynn Creason, father of eight from Phoenixville, Pa.

Sharman and Cousy Lead Eastern 'Stars' To 149-136 Victory

Tacoma, Wash. — Bill Sharman and Bob Cousy of the Boston Celtics led the National Basketball association's Eastern All-Stars over the Western All-Stars, 149-136, Tuesday night before a crowd of 3,000.

The triumph gave the East a 5-4 lead in their cross-country tour.

Sharman scored 28 points and Cousy 23 for the winners. The West's Bob Pettit, ace of the NBA champion St. Louis Hawks, contributed 30 to the losing cause.

and scores of citizens sent letters suggesting new slogans.

$163,279,859 Spent For Sports Equipment In '57, Study Shows

New York — A total of $163,279,859 was spent last year for sports equipment, the Athletic Goods Manufacturers association disclosed Tuesday.

Of this amount $60,711,924 went for golf equipment. Baseball and softball equipment ranks second at $33,074,946.

Theodore Bank, president of the association, said:

"If there is a recession, athletic goods are the last to feel it. Most people with more leisure time usually turn to sports."

Refuses to Drop One National Show, As D'Amato Insists

New York — "We are basically in the television business," said Truman K. Gibson, Jr., new president of the International Boxing club.

"This was the idea when Jim Norris formed the IBC nine years ago. He envisioned the day millions would sit in their parlors or in theaters to watch big-time fights."

"I hope we never come to studio fights. Live audiences are important — just as they are important to comedians. But our main emphasis has been — and is — to beam the fights on as broad a television scale as possible."

Studying All Phases

Gibson told a press conference the IBC was studying all phases of closed circuit and pay television.

This is one of the reasons the IBC may never make peace with Gus D'Amato, manager of heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson. D'Amato insists he never will let his champion fight for the IBC until the IBC drops one of its national TV fight shows.

"This we never will do," said Gibson. "These things are not pawns or gifts to be passed around or divided up like political patronage."

Gibson, 46, is a suave, handsome Negro lawyer who never dreamed his association with Boxers would lead to making him the most powerful promoter in the game — successor to Jim Norris, who retired last week because of health.

Born in Atlanta, son of a prominent insurance executive, Gibson was educated in Columbus, Ohio, and Chicago, receiving his Ph. D. from the University of Chicago in 1932. He began his practice as an attorney in Chicago.

He was an attorney for Joe Louis when he came into contact with Jim Norris, and he was one of the forces in the giant maneuver which formed the IBC and took over the boxing reins from Mike Jacobs. Gibson became the IBC's secretary.

Pitts-Stretz Bout OK'd by Commission

Milwaukee — A 10-round bout between former German champion Hans Stretz and light heavyweight Orville Pitts was okayed by the Wisconsin Athletic commission Tuesday.

Fight promoters Phil Valley and Dr. Jack Gules were told to proceed with their plans for publicizing the event.

Stretz has not had a fight in more than one year because of an eye injury. And before he will be passed to meet Pitts he will have to have an eye examination in New York City and another in Milwaukee eight days prior to the bout.

The event will be held on May 12 or 19, depending on contract conditions.

Chuck Spieser of Detroit, scheduled for a meeting with Pitts May 19, has withdrawn from the bout. Spieser said he is concerned over his wife's health and the fact that she is expecting a baby soon.

Stretz fought in Milwaukee in 1954 and won a 10-round decision from Billy Kilgore. It was his one and only U. S. appearance.

New York Issue Is Dead at The Moment, Says Giles

New York — President Warren Giles of the National League said today that the idea of bringing another club here is dead.

"At least the issue is dead at the moment," he said. "No one has spoken to me about it, nor have I heard anything from the mayor's committee."

Giles met here with Commissioner Ford Frick and American League President Will Harridge. But they didn't even discuss the New York situation.

Want Concrete Plan

"I imagine the next time we will hear from the mayor's committee will be around the All-Star game in July," Giles said.

"A representative of the committee will appear before us at the league meeting and if there is anything to be said, he'll tell us."

This indicated that the league is not interested in idle chatter. What is wanted is a concrete plan or proposal. If none is in the making, the NL probably won't even want its time taken up by the New York man.

Frick, Giles and Harridge spent their meeting talking over the new player draft, the 2-team plan for cities of two million and more and the Celler bill which divorces player contractual relations and the other operating details from the business side of baseball.

The three top executives probably want to reach an agreement among themselves on these subjects before facing the owners.

Podres gave only three hits and struck out three in his 6 1/3 innings last night, but he walked four and had a 3-1 count on John Goryl when he pulled out. Clem Labine came on in relief, fanned Goryl and gave up only one hit—Banks, single off the screen in left in the ninth.

The Dodgers also had only four hits, but scored on Gino Cimoli's 2-run homer in the first off loser Glenn Hobbie and again in the second on a hit batsman, sacrifice and error.

Del Ennis homered for two in the first against loser Johnny Antonelli for the Cardinals, and drove in Stan Musial, who was 3-for-5 including an RBI double, with the clincher in a 3-run seventh at San Francisco.

Iowa's O'Connor Killed in Crash

Hawkeyes Won 2 Cage Titles Under 'Bucky'

Waterloo, Iowa — Frank "Bucky" O'Connor, 44, head basketball coach at the University of Iowa, was killed Tuesday in the collision of his car and a heavy truck.

O'Connor was en route here to address a meeting when the noon hour crash occurred.

Authorities said the coach's northbound car collided almost head-on with the truck, causing its load of concrete tile to spill and crush the lighter vehicle.

Druze Feels That Warriors Will Snap Out of Long Slump

Milwaukee — Johnny Druze, Marquette university football coach, said Tuesday that spring practice has encouraged him to feel the Warriors' will snap out of their long slump next fall.

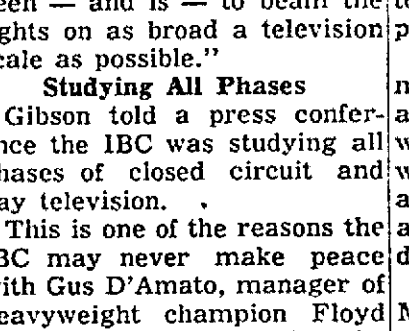

Addressing the Marquette Minute Men's annual Kickoff breakfast, Druze said the squad has better size, more speed and fine spirit. Several personnel changes have been working out well and the quarterback situation looks better than it has for several years, he added.

Druze said the fine showing of Pete Hall at quarterback indicated that Ernie Saffran would not have to carry the full load next fall. Hall looked good as a freshman but did not go out for football last fall because he wanted to concentrate on basketball. Druze said Saffran has been an improved player this fall, particularly in passing.

About 200 Minute Men attended the breakfast that opened their campaign for the sale of season tickets for the 1958 home games at Marquette.

Baylor Says He Won't Play Pro Ball Yet

Seattle Junior Drafted by Laker Quintet

Detroit — The Minneapolis Lakers of the National Basketball association want Seattle university's Elgin Baylor, but the tall All-American says he isn't interested—not this year at least.

Minneapolis was the first team to receive a balk following Tuesday's draft here of the country's top court talent by the eight NBA teams.

"I don't care who drafted me," said Baylor in Seattle after being told the Lakers had chosen him in the first round. The 6-6 junior from Washington, D. C., said he wanted to get his college degree before thinking about professional ball.

Philadelphia started off the draft session, grabbing off All-American Guy Rodgers of Temple in exercising its territorial rights to any college player within a 50-mile radius of Philadelphia.

Indiana's Archie Dees went to Cincinnati, Peter Brennan of North Carolina and San Francisco's Mike Farmer were claimed by New York. Connie Dierking of Cincinnati went to Syracuse, Dave Dambee of Oregon State was grabbed by St. Louis and 6-9 Ben Swain of Texas Southern got the nod from Boston.

Among the Big Ten players drafted in subsequent rounds were Frank Howard and George Kline, by Minneapolis; Don Ohl and Larry Hedden, by Philadelphia; Pete Tillotson, by Syracuse; Ken Sidle, by St. Louis; and Jack Quiggle, by Detroit.

The league, in other action, voted to drop the drafting of high school players. It left the status of Wilt "The Stilt" Chamberlain, Kansas star, unchanged. Philadelphia drafted Chamberlain several years ago while he was in high school.

Also unchanged is Cincinnati's claim to Jerry Lucas, a Middletown, Ohio, high school star. Lucas reportedly is headed for the University of Cincinnati, and the NBA ruled that if he picks another college in another team's 50-mile territory Cincinnati's claim will be void.

Six UW Boxers Awarded Letters

Madison — The University of Wisconsin announced today that six Badger boxers had been awarded major letters.

Recipients included Robert Christopherson, Minneapolis; John N. Drye, Brownstown; Ronald Freeman, Cudahy; Charles Mohr, Merrick, N. Y.; Roland Nesbit, Edgerton and Edward Sanborn, Madison.

Doctoring Your Golf

Safest Sand Trap Shot Is The Explosion

BY DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF
Patient's Complaint: "S and Has Me Trapped!"
Diagnosis: Uncertain Technique.

Treatment: The simplest and safest shot for getting out of sand traps is the explosion shot.

Take your sand wedge (for best results it should have a rounded flange on the bottom). Use a slightly open stance (right foot withdrawn two or three inches from the line), with the feet about as far apart as the width of the shoulders. Dig in solidly with your feet; this gives you a solid stance and serves as a guide to the depth and texture of the sand.

Swing with about three-quarter power. Contact the sand with the leading edge of the club about two inches behind the ball and hit on through.

But let me point out that the clubhouse doesn't contact the ball. You take a divot of sand about the size of your hand, and the ball rides out of the trap on top of this divot.

Pick the club up rather abruptly on the backswing

American Industrial Loop Has 8 Teams

3 More Entries Needed for an Association League

The American Industrial Softball league will operate with eight teams this season and will be classified as "open" with respect to pitching talent, according to E. W. Grover, Appleton Recreation department director.

Competing in the American circuit will be Miller Electric, managed by George Reichelt; Kurz-Root, Harry Albright; United Grocers, Les Dietzen; Riverside No. 1, Jerry De Decker; Appleton Coated Paper, Donald Coyle; Pierce Auto Body, Phil Burmeister; Appleton Post-Crescent, Dick Kimball; Interlake mill, Bob Diener.

Will Play Thursdays
All games will be played Thursday evenings, starting May 15. Managers decided that three "outside" players will be the maximum allowed on any team but that no outside pitchers will be permitted.

The remaining nine Industrial teams have tentatively been scheduled to play in the National league. If three more entries can be secured, an Association Industrial circuit will be formed. In the event of the formation of a third league, since the proper swing for explosion shots is U-shaped. (Copyright 1958)

these teams will be placed in it: Krambo Foods, Leroy Sommers; Elm Tree, Dick Dorschner; and Brady company, Tom Des Stelle.

Teams definitely slated to play in the National circuit are August Winter, Jim Hale; Power company, Lawrence Palm; Police department, Erv Lietz; Appleton Wire Works, Eugene Werner; Institute of Paper Chemistry, Marvin Filz; Riverside No. 2, Bill Hamilton.

The National loop will play games Monday nights, beginning, May 12. It will permit three outside players on a roster but no outside pitchers.

Even Boxing Manager Weill Moves West

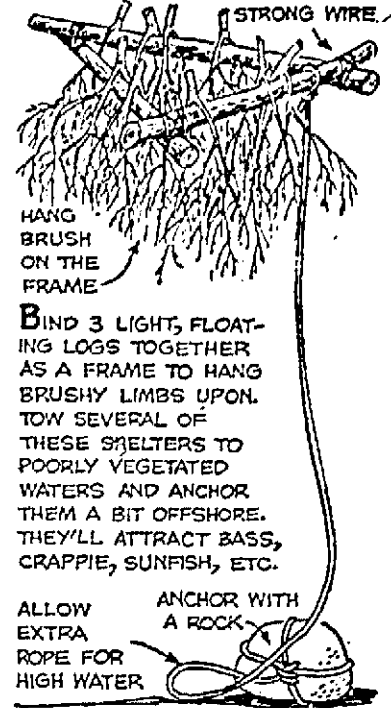

Los Angeles — Boxing manager Al Weill set up shop in California today, another indication of the trend toward the West in major sports.

It wasn't as earth-shaking as the move of the New York Giants to San Francisco and the Brooklyn Dodgers to Los Angeles. But for a man who has been identified in boxing in New York for almost 44 years, it was significant.

Al, the "Westkit Kid," is not giving up his office in New York, where he gained his greatest fame as Rocky Marciano's manager, but as for the West, he said:

Five Veterans Muster 2,524 In ABC Test

Average Age of Unit Is 67; Marino Rolls 479

Syracuse, N. Y. — The White Tower restaurants team, featuring four members of bowling's hall of fame, mustered a 2,524 series in the American Bowling congress Tuesday night.

The Stamford, Conn., sponsored unit, whose average age is 67, was not dependent over its tepid showing. Most of the lineup has been bowling in the ABC for nearly a half century, and each has earned more than his share of spoils in the big event over the years.

Mort Lindsey 69, of Stamford, the owner of three ABC titles, led the aggregation with a 511 series. Herb Lange of Waukegan, Wis., led off with 542. Fred Thoma of Peoria, Ill., had 529 and Hank Marino of Milwaukee anchored with 479.

Harry Steers of Elmhurst, Ill., a veteran of 53 of the total 55 ABC tournaments, was low man with 426. Steers, 77, is the oldest man on the team.

Red Sox Bid for Gus Triandos And Cleveland's Don Mossi

New York — The Boston Red Sox, seeking right-handed hitting and left-handed pitching strength, have made strong bids to Baltimore for slugger Gus Triandos and to Cleveland for southpaw Don Mossi, the Associated Press learned today.

According to the informant, General Manager Joe Cronin of the Red Sox has offered Jimmy Piersall, center field star, to the Orioles in an even-up swap for Triandos, who can catch or play first base. The proposed Mossi trade involves five other players identified only by positions.

The Red Sox would give up a second baseman, a catcher and two pitchers. The Indians would throw in a young catcher in addition to the veteran left-handed relief star.

The Red Sox, who got only two winning games from their left-handers last year, have three southpaws on their roster.

hamton, N. Y., posted a 1,004-1,011-987-3,002 set, the highest tally in the open division Tuesday night. The St. Louis Cardinals continue their domination of the tourney with 3,210.

ter, Frank Baumann, Bob Smith and Leo Kiely. Not one has started a game this season although all have appeared in relief.

Boston lost to New York again Tuesday, 12-7, their fourth loss to the Yankees, in five games. The hitters, who have been the worst offenders, again failed to deliver in the clutch. For the first time, the pitchers also took a lacing.

Ankle Sprain May Keep Lumpe Out of Lineup 2-3 Weeks

New York — A sprained left ankle may keep third baseman Jerry Lumpe out of the New York Yankees' lineup for two or three weeks.

Team physician Dr. Sidney Gaynor made the estimate Monday even though X-rays disclosed no fracture. Lumpe suffered the injury, similar to one he incurred in spring training, when he stepped on a ball during a batting drill before the Yankees' game with the Boston Red Sox.

New Wrinkle Develops in State Politics

Sen. O'Brien Making Serious Bid for Lieutenant Governor

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison — The state political show is developing a new wrinkle as Sen. Leo P. O'Brien of Green Bay is campaigning for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor and coupling his announcement of availability with a simultaneous tribute to the qualities of Lt. Gov. Warren P. Knowles, who is running for reelection.

Sen. O'Brien, whose legislative term won't expire until two years hence, had made declarations of his candidacy for a place on the Republican party state ticket to audiences in Brown county recently.

But Republicans in the state had disregarded them as probably designed for home consumption and promotion of his political position in his own constituency.

But now O'Brien is evidently resolved to solicit support in other districts.

Seeks Backing
O'Brien attended the sixth congressional district caucus at Fond du Lac to ask for delegate backing.

He acknowledged that Knowles, who announced his own candidacy for a third term a week earlier, "is the finest figure I have ever seen in government."

"But I don't like to see him laying back and waiting behind the billboards. I'm Leo Patrick Amelia A. Werner, 601 E. Calumet, O'Brien and I intend to be a candidate for lieutenant governor," he added.

O'Brien's apparent complaint against Knowles is that he is not sufficiently active as a public figure and a party spokesman.

Not Easy Year
The legislator told reporters after the Fond du Lac rally that he believes leading party officials should strike out more vigorously in this campaign year, which he estimated would not be an easy one for Republicans in general in Wisconsin.

He also made it clear that he is concerned with the party's convention endorsement at Milwaukee next month, and has no intention of defying the will of the party's delegates if their backing goes to Knowles or to another.

The popular No. 2 man on the Republican ticket is regarded as a heavy favorite for that delegate backing, and no other rival thus far has been rumored for him. Sen. O'Brien is serving his second term in the legislature.

Boy Hurt as Car Upsets His Bike

A 14-year-old boy was slightly injured Tuesday shortly after noon when the handlebar of his bicycle was caught by a passing car and he was thrown to the ground.

Peter R. Vogt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph B. Vogt, 516 N. Bateman street, was thrown from his bike as a car driven by Jerry G. Voigt, 18, 123 E. Harris street, passed him as both headed south on N. Union street near E. Hancock street. The car dragged Peter's bike 45 feet.

Peter was taken to a doctor's office by Mrs. Vogt for treatment of back injuries.

Site for South Side Swim Pool Selected

Committee Recommends Sievert-Werner Land Between S. Lawe, S. Carpenter at SSAC

A site for the south side swimming pool was selected Tuesday afternoon by the city council's special pool committee.

It is an irregularly shaped piece between S. Lawe street and S. Carpenter street immediately south of the South Side Athletic club, 1726 S. Lawe.

Committeemen will make the recommendation to the council May 7.

The approximately 2.84-acre parcel will cost $22,700. The land is owned by Lawrence Sievert, 1624 S. Lawe, and Mrs. Sievert.

Move House, Garage
Of the $22,700, Sievert will receive $19,200 for 86,800 square feet and Mrs. Werner will get $3,500 for about 47,000 square feet. Sievert, it was said, will remove a house and a garage from his property before official completion of the sale. Mrs. Werner's property is vacant.

Sievert is asking for $1,000

Two Arkell, Smiths Plants Bought by West Virginia Pulp

New York — West Virginia Pulp and Paper company has arranged to buy two multiwall bag plants from Arkell and Smiths, Canajoharie, N.Y., for an undisclosed amount of cash, the companies announced.

The two plants are located at Wellsburg, W. Va., and Mobile, Ala. Arkell and Smiths' plants at Canajoharie and Hudson Falls, N.Y., are not included in the transaction, and will continue to be operated by A. & S.

The boards of both companies have approved the sale. It is subject to approval by Arkell and Smiths' stockholders.

David L. Luke, president of West Virginia Pulp, said the two bag plants together with the two plants of Fulton Bag and Products company at New Orleans and St. Louis, acquired by West Virginia April 1, would become components of a new multiwall bag division of the paper company. The operation marks the company's entry into the multiwall sack converting field, a major market for its new clupak stretchable paper, Luke said.

The Wellsburg plant of Arkell and Smiths makes only multiwall sacks, while the mobile plant makes both sewn and pasted multiwall bags, paper pockets and baler bags. Together they employ about 400 people. They will continue to employ present operating and sales organizations under West Virginia Pulp, the company said.

Tri-Hi-Y Clubs Hear Talk on Origins of Wit

Dr. Curtis Brown, editor of the Institute of Paper Chemistry bulletin, discussed origins of wit and humor at a joint Tri-Hi-Y meeting Tuesday night. Miss Florence Arbuthnot, YMCA women's and girls' secretary reports.

The program was sponsored by Cudo Senior Tri-Hi-Y. Organizations represented included Schatze, Pandora, Pixie, Cho-Cho and S.H.Y. Tri-Y clubs.

Scott Paper Says It Will Operate at 85 to 90 Per Cent

Pittsburgh — Scott Paper

company estimates it will operate at between 85 per cent and 90 per cent of capacity this year, a rate made possible by the "essential" nature of many of its household products, Paul B. Wyant, treasurer, said.

Such products include paper towels, napkins, wax paper, facial tissue and toilet tissue. Wyant said sales of Scott's trademarked products, comprising some commercial and industrial products as well as household items, were higher during the first quarter than a year ago, while wood pulp sales declined. The trademarked products, he said, account for about 80 per cent of Scott's sales.

No figures are available yet on net income for the first quarter, according to Wyant. However, he did note that the company has made operating economies which will have a favorable effect on earnings.

While expected to be "relatively insignificant" in this year's overall sales picture, two new fields that Scott has recently entered have "excellent future prospects," Wyant declared. They are paper cups and urethane foam plastic. Increasing quantities of paper cups are being sold to soft drink vending companies, he said. The first commercial market for urethane foam is being developed in the clothing industry where it is used as a garment interliner.

Committeemen who called on John Strange, president of the Institute of Paper Chemistry, said Strange could give nearly certain assurances that the institute's board of trustees would approve giving 30 feet of land for the S. East site, but the assurances could be upset by the board.

Since the board will not meet until May 15, committeemen felt they could not go along with that much delay in getting pool construction started. The site may also be too small, it was said. Committeemen hope to have the pool ready sometime early next season.

Committeemen, when they take the recommendation to the council, also will ask that the board of public works, which will have jurisdiction over hiring an architect and taking construction bids, meet with the committee to hear the committee's ideas about the kind of pool which ought to be built.

Like Neenah's
The committee has expressed most favor toward a rectangular pool about 200 by 65 feet, with a diving well off one side at the center. The pool, they said, should be about three feet deep at both ends and gradually deepen to about five feet at the center. It would have a bathhouse and a wading pool.

A similar outdoor facility was constructed in Green Bay about 1950. It was said, for $225,000. Neenah's pool also is similar. Committeemen are reluctant to estimate the cost of the new Appleton pool. They have, however, strongly urged that so-called frills of other pools be pared to keep cost low.

If the site is selected, the committee will be disbanded. Members are Mayor Clarence A. Mitchell, chairman, and Aldermen Alvin Tews, Thomas K. Schneider, Robert Stumpf, Harold Hannemann and Kenneth Priebe.

One Boy Kept Under Court Supervision, Two Others Released

A 13-year-old Hortonville boy has been ordered to return to juvenile court Oct. 16 for a report on his behavior and two others, 13 and 14, have been dismissed by the court for a series of incidents of vandalism and truancy.

County Judge Stanley A. Staidl heard the cases after Hortonville Police Chief Ira Dominowski referred the boys to the county welfare department.

The boys first appeared in juvenile court in March, and their behavior has improved since that time, the court indicated. The boys were referred to juvenile court after they became involved with 19 others in a watermelon stealing escapade, broken windows in a factory, thrown snowballs at cars and repeatedly stayed away from school. One boy also was implicated in possession and distribution of firecrackers.

International's 1st Quarter Sales Off 10 Per Cent

Cleveland—Sales of International Paper company in the first quarter are down about 10 per cent from the like period a year ago, William A. Hanway, secretary, said.

"I do not know yet for sure just what the drop will be in earnings. It is bound to be more than the percentage drop in sales but due to special factors not as much as you would expect."

In the first quarter of 1957, International Paper reported sales of $238,178,175 and earnings of $18,398,638, or $1.49 a common share.

Hanway declined to comment on the outlook for this year saying "We get a pretty clear picture of the next 30 days and a considerably dimmer picture of the following 30 days." But he noted that paper is a service industry, "and when general economic activity turns up, so will the consumption of paper."

According to preliminary figures, national paper consumption in 1956 amounted to about 35 1/2 million tons, down about 3 per cent from the previous year. "So far in 1958, consumption has run somewhat behind 1957," Hanway said.

"Once the general sag in the economy bottoms out, demand

The Appleton Fire and Police commission Tuesday night voted unanimously to cease and desist from calling Chief of Police Walter J. Hendricks "Washy" because it simply is not dignified enough.

However, Hendricks has been Washy for more years than he cares to remember.

In spite of, or perhaps because of, the resolution, Commission President George Dame addressed Chief Hendricks as Washy at least five times during the evening.

So, it's Chief Hendricks from now on—if anyone can remember it.

For paper will be one of the early birds on the upturn," he said, adding that "if the crystal-ball boys are right in seeing better business starting next summer, it could be that 1957, not 1958, will mark U.S. consumption's low point for the present cycle."

Regarding the price situation, the International Paper official said that outside of one or two soft spots on the Pacific Coast, where prices were cut by 10 per cent recently, the price of all principal paper products remains stable.

Stock Options for Executives of St. Regis Okayed

New York — St. Regis Paper company stockholders approved a stock option plan for key executives, although a recession-minded group drew applause at the annual meeting when it assailed the program.

In the wake of a half-dozen speeches condemning the plan, Chairman Roy K. Ferguson stated he would refuse to buy any shares allotted him by the board under the latest program, which is similar to one voted by St. Regis holders in 1951.

Before the vote on the option plan, Ferguson told approximately 850 shareholders that preliminary figures showed first quarter net profits fell to 41 cents a share from 63 cents a share in the corresponding 1957 period.

Forecast Reduced
He put first quarter net income at $3,519,345 and sales at $81,625,060, down from profit of $5,299,797 on volume of $86,450,521 a year earlier. He said that as a result of the lower earnings, estimates of profits for the full year have been reduced to about $2.53 a share from the

The option plan calls for the granting of 250,000 shares to key employees at 95 per cent of market value. Date of option and amounts awarded — up to 10,000 to any one individual — are set by the board. The options cannot be exercised until two years after they are awarded.

In answer to charges the options would be used for speculation rather than investment, Ferguson said more than 75 per cent of shares issued under the 1951 plan are still in the hands of the original receivers. He said he had not sold any of his shares received under the 1951 plan.

The proxy statement for the meeting lists Ferguson as the holder of 32,500 common shares. He also holds a 28 per cent interest in Eastern States corporation, which owns 9.5 per cent of the outstanding St. Regis common, he said.

Hendricks Begins Reorganization Of Police; Juvenile Officer Named

Van Heuklon Takes New Post; Salzman, Gosch Promoted

Appleton Police Chief Walter J. Hendricks, with approval of the fire and police commission, Tuesday began reorganization of the police department.

Named as captain to replace Hendricks was Lt. Harry Salzman, former head of the traffic department. Motorcycle Patrolman John V. Gosch was promoted to sergeant and will head the traffic department.

A juvenile aid bureau will be established in about three weeks. Hendricks recommended, and the commission approved, naming Kenneth Van Heuklon as juvenile officer.

The choice of Van Heuklon, long known to the city's children at school crossings as "Cookie," followed day-long interviews of 15 members of the Appleton force by Hendricks and a trio of experts.

Experts Panel
Hendricks was helped by Capt. Michael S. Wolke, youth aid bureau director of the Milwaukee police department; Lt. William Gonyo, Oshkosh police department juvenile officer, and Robert M. Carnes, Madison, state department of public welfare examiners.

Van Heuklon will be sent to a 8-hour-a-day juvenile training school at the University of Wisconsin between April 28 and May 10. The course is given by members of the university staff and state department of public welfare workers.

After his return, Van Heuklon will be aided for a short time by Carnes and Capt. Wolke, Hendricks said.

Basic difference in establishing a juvenile bureau, Hendricks said, will be that a liaison will be established for the first time between police and other agencies.

Work With Groups
The juvenile officer will work with children, offering them someone with whom they can discuss their problems, with parents, Parent Teachers associations, civic groups, public and private welfare organizations, the juvenile judge and schools.

Hendricks said the juvenile officer will personally inspect most of the recreational activities designed for youths, adding that he had in mind particularly the youth dances which were cancelled last year because of irresponsible behavior by some youths in Pierce park.

Basis for selecting the juvenile officer was, in a large part, Hendricks said, an ability to understand children, to get along with them and to communicate with them.

Van Heuklon, 38, lives at 504 E. Alice street and has two children, a girl and a boy.

He has been a policeman since 1949, a motorcycle patrolman since 1953.

Talks on Youth
Part of Van Heuklon's duties will be talks before groups interested in problems of youth, Hendricks said, indicating that he believes a vastly changed attitude in police-public relations in juvenile problems is needed.

Although about 65 per cent of detectives' work at present concerns juveniles, Hendricks said he did not expect much change in the investigative work load. It will be the juvenile officer's job to follow up youth cases, not to do the initial investigation, he added.

A Trio of Experts Joined Appleton Police Chief Walter Hendricks Tuesday to interview 15 Appleton policemen for the newly-created juvenile aid bureau position. Shown from left to right are Robert M. Carnes, Madison, state department of public welfare; Capt. Michael S. Wolke, director of youth aid bureau of the Milwaukee police department; Lt. William Gonyo, Oshkosh juvenile bureau officer, and Chief Hendricks. After day-long interviews and with the approval of the fire and police commission, Motorcycle Patrolman Kenneth VanHeuklon, long known to the city's children as "Cookie," was named. Capt. Salzman

He has been a policeman since 1936, was made a sergeant in 1941 and a lieutenant in 1943. He has headed the traffic bureau since he was made a sergeant and was its second chief.

Salzman joins Capt. Alfred Gosha as Hendricks' two second-in-command officers.

Gosch, 40, lives at 500 E. Byrd street and has three children.

He has been a policeman since 1942 and a motorcycle patrolman since 1946. Gosch served three years in the army.

Bike Licenses
The commission also discussed with Hendricks ways to eliminate the annual jam of bicycle licensing at the police station. It was suggested that a system of registration by schools throughout the city on successive days would eliminate a large part of the traffic jam at the police station.

The commission suggested this also would tie up fewer of bureau, but he said a separate office will be opened somewhere in the police station and the juvenile bureau will not be placed with the detective bureau.

A 1-Act Melodrama

No Question on Mayor's Oath-Taking After All

There for a while Tuesday it looked like maybe Mayor Clarence A. Mitchell wasn't legally mayor after all.

It all started with an article in a Tuesday morning newspaper which told of the challenge of Nekeosa officials to hold office because they hadn't taken their oaths of office within the prescribed time.

Confronted with the article, City Clerk Elden Broehm whipped out his state statute book. Right there in the fine print it says city officials must take the oath within 10 days of notice of election.

Sigh of Relief

Broehm breathed a sigh of relief. He had sent all election winners a notice and all had taken the oath before 10 days expired. That's that.

But then came more questions. What constitutes a notice? And who shall give it?

Back to the book and into the fine print. Result: Nothing. It doesn't say.

Well, Mr. Broehm, went the questioning, Mr. Jury (the city attorney who helped in the staging of this melodrama) says the election itself is notice enough. Did all candidates take the oath within 10 days of the election?

The answer was obvious.

Placed right there under Mr. Broehm's nose was a clipping, date penciled in, of Mr. Broehm giving the oath of office to Mitchell. The date was April 14. The election was April 1.

A moment of non plus.

Why, Mr. Clerk, do you send the notice? Where does it say you must do this?

Another short pause.

Curtain Time

Then, into a library-looking affair went Broehm and out came another book, a manual for city clerks prepared by the League of Wisconsin Municipalities.

And right here, a relieved Broehm says, is your answer: City clerks will send notices to all winners and winners must take oaths within 10 days of receiving the notice.

'Broehm then triumphantly reported all notices were sent April 4 and couldn't have been received before April 5. Mr. Mitchell, says he, took his oath on April 14, well in advance of the 10-day deadline after the earliest date he could have received the notice.

Draw the curtain, Mr. Jury, please.

6-Foot Fence For Swim Pools Recommended

A 6-foot high fence around all private, backyard swimming pools will be required if the city council approves its welfare and ordinance committee recommendation.

The committee asks that fences, by ordinance, be kept 10 feet from any lot line.

Ald. Mrs. Dorothy Stillings sought the new law at the March 6 council meeting. She said it would be a safety measure to protect small children.

Other committee actions:

Relief Director F. A. W. Hammond was instructed to advise Mrs. Hilda Foster, cook at the city home who was injured by a fall in her room at the city home to appeal to the state industrial commission. Hardware Mutuals, city workmen's compensation carrier, refuses to pay her claim for more than $1,000 in hospital expenses as a result of the fall. The company says the injury was not from an accident on the job.

Keith D. Kohlman, 1904 E. Frances street, was hired as assistant director of the Erb park swimming pool. He replaces John Landis, who told the committee he will not be available for the job this summer.

John L. Brockmann, 223 E. Commercial street, was hired to replace Mrs. Foster at the city home.

Appleton Woman Aids State GOP Platform Committee on Finance

Mrs. John C. Stevens, member of the Outagamie county Republican organization's executive board, is working on the financial section of the party's platform. The temporary chairman of the state GOP interim platform committee is Assemblyman Robert Marotz.

The second meeting of the committee was held in Oshkosh last week and the final meeting is May 10 in Oshkosh. The platform is being drafted and will be presented at the final committee meeting.

Deadline Nears For Princess Contest Entries

Fox Cities Area Girls to Vie for Regional Honors

Fox Cities area girls will be among the more than 100 contestants vying for a chance to compete for the titles of Alice in Dairyland princesses next month.

Wisconsin girls between the ages of 18 and 25 have until April 30 to get their application in for the Alice in Dairyland contests. Entry blanks are available at the Post-Crescent office.

Applications have been received from five Fox Cities area girls in region 7 and from four Fox Cities area girls in region 6.

The region 6 qualifying contest will be at Fond du Lac on May 17 and the region 7 contest will be at Kiel on May 24.

In the contest in region 6 are Mary Brethausen, Menasha; Nancy Lee Reno, Oshkosh; Betty Groholski, Manawa; and Beverly Zirbel, Royalton.

Region 7 entrants include Diane Sylvia Hatch and Susan Velma Gygi, both of Appleton; Mary Everson, Seymour; Joyce Kamneski, Bonduel; and Phyllis Mae Hart, Brillion.

Two winners in each of the 10 regions in the state will compete for the princesses titles at DePere on June 19, 20 and 21.

The four princesses will appear at the state fair and the Alice for 1959 will be named on Dairy day, Aug. 20.

Elaborate preparations are being made for the regional contests.

In Kiel the region 7 parade of entrants, bands and floats will end at the new First street bridge over the Sheboygan river where state highway department officials will participate in a dedication ceremony.

George Mignon Buys Barbershop of Late A. A. Gritzmacher

George J. Mignon has purchased the barbershop at 219 W. College avenue from Mrs. A. A. Gritzmacher, 1017 W. College avenue.

The shop will be closed for several days in June for extensive remodeling and refurbishing, Mignon said.

The shop was owned and operated by Gritzmacher from 1923 until his recent death. Mignon had been with Gritzmacher since 1929. The shop has four barbers.

Catlin Petitions for Reinstatement to Practice Law in State

Madison—Mark Catlin of Appleton, former Republican speaker in the state assembly, petitioned the state supreme court today for reinstatement to practice law in Wisconsin.

The court suspended Catlin's right to practice law Nov. 5, 1937. The action was taken on charges of the Board of State Bar Commissioners that Catlin had offered to use his political influence to obtain pardons and paroles for inmates at the state prison at Waupun.

The 6-month suspension period will end May 6, but it does not end automatically and the supreme court must be asked to grant reinstatement.

In his petition Catlin said that during the suspension he had not practiced law in Wisconsin or anywhere else, that he had removed his law firm name from the door and windows of his office, and that he had complied with the decision of the high court.

City Band to Play

The Appleton city band has been instructed to play for Fox Cities Foxes' opening day ceremonies at Goodland field on May 3, Mayor Clarence A. Mitchell said today.

Sales During Auto Buy Week Total 276 by Area Dealers

Sales of new and used cars climbed to 276 today since 'You Auto Buy Now' week began Friday, according to a survey of Fox Cities area car dealers. The total Tuesday was 211.

Many dealers reported good traffic to their car lots and showrooms. Arrow Auto Sales, Appleton, felt the promotion event was helping substantially. The same comments came from Laux Motor company, Sam Malofsky Motors and Sherry Motors, all of Appleton.

Black Auto Sales, Neenah, said Auto Buy week has proved to be a tremendous idea and reported traffic good.

The event will continue through the rest of the week.

New York—The 'You Auto Buy Now' anti-recession campaign is credited with being responsible so far for at least $50 million worth of car sales that would not have been made.

The bureau of advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Association (ANPA), which is holding its annual convention here, made the estimate yesterday.

250 Communities

The promotion and advertising campaign, which started two months ago in Cleveland, has been staged so far in about 250 communities of the nation.

Albert Spendlove, business manager of the Philadelphia Bulletin, reporting on discussions at an ANPA divisional meeting, said of the car sale campaign:

"It shows what can be done through newspaper advertising to stimulate the economy. Newspaper advertising, properly used, can be tremendously effective."

Burglars Take $976 at Market

Grocery Store Entered By Forcing Side Door; Cash Drawer Emptied

Burglars entered the Park 'N' Market, 1400 N. Meade street, Tuesday night or this morning, and stole $976 from a cash drawer in a small office near the front of the store. The theft was discovered shortly before 8 o'clock this morning by Jerry Reider, an employee. Police said the thieves entered the store by slipping a thin tool through the crack in a door on the south side of the building and pushing a bolt back. The cash drawer was opened by sawing through a bolt, police said. The burglars took currency and silver, but left rolls of nickels and pennies. The cash was kept in the small office as change and for cashing checks, police were told. An attempt to open a safe was made by sawing off the knob, but the burglars apparently could not open it, police said. The market was entered between about 9:30 Tuesday night and 7:40 this morning, police said.

Farm Wages Up 2 Pct. Over '57

Wages paid by Wisconsin farmers are the highest on record for April, according to the Federal - State Crop Reporting service for Wisconsin. Reports from Wisconsin crop correspondents indicate that farm wages at the beginning of this crop season are about 2 per cent above a year ago. Wages paid to hired workers on Wisconsin farms on April 1 averaged $138 a month with board and room, $185 a month with board but no board, $6.40 a day and 6-1 victory over Paul Van-ni with board and room, $8.20 a day without board or room, and 5, 4-6 and 6-3 win over Ken Schumacher; Ted Miller's 4-6, 6-4 and 6-8 decision over Clarence Yunk; John Romberg's farm labor in Wisconsin is 6-4, 4-6 and 4-6 decision over scarce although farmers are Dave Van Nuland. Busy Bee Family Has Miners, Leaf Cutters and Carpenters

BY RAMON COFFMAN In addition to carpenters, the bee family contains leaf cutters and miners. Yes, there are leaf cutters among bees as well as among ants! Working her jaws like scissors, a female ant cuts out a piece of a leaf, then carries it to her nest. Usually the nest is a tube which has been bored in soft wood or in the stem of a bush. Sometimes a natural hollow is used, but the leaf cutter is able to bore a hole in the manner of a carpenter bee. Q. What does a leaf-cutting

Land Offered For Northside Parking Lot An offer of land for a city-owned parking lot off W. Wisconsin avenue was made today in a letter to the city council. Carl Zuelzke, agent for Elmer H. and Eugene Bleick, made the offer. The Bleick property, he said, is 88.97 by 112 feet, with the the parley last year. The chapter is planning an open house from 3 o'clock to 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, May 2, for early comers. 88.97 feet on N. Superior street about 60 feet south of the W. Wisconsin intersection. The Bleicks will take $16,000 for the land, Zuelzke said, with $2,000 down, $2,000 the first year, $3,000 in two years and the final $4,000 in three years, all at 4 per cent interest. Buying now would save the city money in the future, the agent said. The land, he said, has no buildings on it and is fairly level. The letter probably will be referred to the public safety committee when it is presented at the next council meeting, May 7.

Pick Committee Head to Study Annexation Law

Legislative Unit To Review Proposals Defeated Last Year

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — Sen. Peter Carr, Janesville, has been chosen head of a sub-committee of the urban problems investigation committee to review proposed annexation law reforms defeated by the state legislature last year.

The committee is considering whether to make another attempt to persuade the legislature to change the laws to make it easier for cities to expand into rural territory.

A comprehensive annexation law reform bill was defeated in the legislature last fall. It would have simplified annexation motions, among other things, by introducing a court proceeding to establish findings of fact in disputes between cities and adjacent territory.

New Proposals The committee has also indicated it will consider some new proposals including the creation of a state-level agency to review proposed annexations, incorporations, consolidations and detachments of territory.

It has asked University of Wisconsin urban affairs specialists to submit materials on the experiences of other states in that field.

Another proposition is that the state provide some kind of a service bureau, as a permanent part of its administrative machinery, to collect data and conduct research on urban area problems, such as is now provided in some of the larger states of the country with similar problems of city growth.

Assemblyman Carroll Metzner of Madison is chairman of the study group, one of the major operations of the legislative council of this year.

Capt. Cook's Biography

John Gwyther's New Book Full of Suspense, Adventure

BY JEAN WILEY THICKENS

A new biography recently published by Houghton Mifflin Co., entitled "Captain Cook and the South Pacific," should prove of universal interest to readers of any age or sex.

In addition to its excellent literary style and readability it proved of especial interest to your reviewer who has recently returned from visiting the area around the South Pacific which Captain Cook explored and charted almost 200 years ago.

Author John Gwyther is a 32-year-old British seaman, born on a farm in Pembrokeshire, England. He ran away and joined the British navy at 18 during World War II. He served on several British men-of-war in the South Pacific. It was while he was stationed out there that he noted a great many of the South Seas islands had been visited and charted by Captain Cook. He became impressed with the great service the brave captain had rendered, not only to his own navy but to that of many nations, as a result of his charts and general information which still are being used by present day navigators. He read and studied old diaries, journals and admiralty reports and decided to write a biography of the great explorer.

"5 Years Research" "Captain Cook and the South Pacific" is the result of five years study and research. James Mitchener, who probably knows more about that area of the South Pacific than any man alive today, says of John Gwyther's book "He has caught the essential spirit of this great man, Captain Cook, and combined it with a remarkably terse and naval style, with just the right number of 18th century mannerisms."

In a foreword, the author states that he is going to let Captain Cook tell his own story. Says he, "I don't claim that this is a biography but rather a true yarn of the sea, a story of a voyage that can only be complete when it is humanized by the life these seamen lived when on board, their meager food, their loves and hates, pleasures and something of the terrible dangers they faced from storms, cannibalistic natives, disease, and months of isolation on a wild and lonely sea."

The author's accounts make poignant reading. Taken from Captain Cook's journals, they tell of the battles with the savages in a natives encountered on Ostralia and New Zealand, the terrible storms endured and especially the shipwreck on a cruelly sharp coral reef while cruising through the Great Barrier reef that divides Australia and New Zealand. The reader reads of the constant lack of sufficient fresh water while at sea and the loneliness of the officers and crew for home and friends, 15,000 miles distant. In the face of these constant dangers Capt. Cook's salty wit and unflinching courage, often in the face of what appeared to be imminent death, are inspiring and unforgettable.

One of the most entertaining and romantic chapters is the one recounting the weeks spent ashore on the island paradise of Tahiti, where the scenery was spectacular, flowers, food and fresh water were to be found in abundance and life was a rosy dream. It was amazing that only two of the crew jumped ship and fled into the hills rather than continue the voyage in the face of constant danger and hardship.

The book abounds on every page with suspense and adventure. The book should be a must in a spring reading program.

Bridge to be Named for Cattle Trail Pioneer

Dover, Okla. — Jesse Chisholm, famous in western legend and song as pioneering a cattle trail from Texas to Kansas, is going to get a bridge named after him.

The Oklahoma highway commission will call a bridge over the Cimarron river near here Jesse Chisholm bridge. It is being built at the spot where Chisholm forded the river with his men and cattle.

His talk is titled, "Christian Science: The Healing Science of the Christ."

A former manager of the Washington, D.C., office of the Christian Science committee on publication, Watt served as an army chaplain in World War II. He is a graduate of the Illinois Institute of Technology and formerly was associated with various engineering companies in the United States and abroad. Later he was director of research and western manager for the Advertising Checking bureau with headquarters in Chicago. He has devoted his full time to Christian Science service since 1942.

he went to see the officer March 27 because he had heard federal authorities were trying to frame him on a narcotics charge. There was a scuffle during the visit.

Cohen's attorney assured federal Judge Thurmond Clarke yesterday that he would know Mickey's Chicago whereabouts at all times and could get him back to Los Angeles whenever the court wanted him.

State Forests Contain Over 100 Million Cords

Publish Report On Survey Taken Over Last 5 Years

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — Wisconsin forests contain over 100 million cords of live growing timber over five inches in diameter at chest height, according to a report taken from the inventory conducted by the conservation department over the last five years.

Of the total wood volume standing when the county-by-county surveys were made in 1953—and which has probably made normal growth since that time—about 36 per cent is represented in trees suitable for saw-timber of some kind.

The saw-timber total would amount to 16.1 billions of board feet.

Assuming that about 9,000 board feet is sufficient to build a 7-room frame house, the saw-timber reserve of Wisconsin is the equivalent of the lumber required to build 1,800,000 such dwellings.

Mostly Hardwood Much of the timber would not be used for such construction. Three fourths of the Wisconsin saw-timber volume is hardwood, red oak being the most abundant. Red and white oak combined make up 29 per cent of standing saw-timber.

Of the total standing wood volume, hardwoods make up 82 per cent. Aspen alone accounts for about 22 per cent of the aggregate volume.

The inventory findings are being published serially in county inventory reports. The digest of the findings for the state as a whole was published here because of delays in production of some of the county reports.

The commercial forest land of the state covers about 16,325,000 acres, more than a third of it classified as seedling and sapling type.

Land Area The forest land of the state comprises almost one half of the state's total area — more than the farm lands.

About 11 per cent of the total forest acreage is saw-timber, 33 per cent pole timber, 39 per cent seedling and sapling and 17 per cent non-stocked.

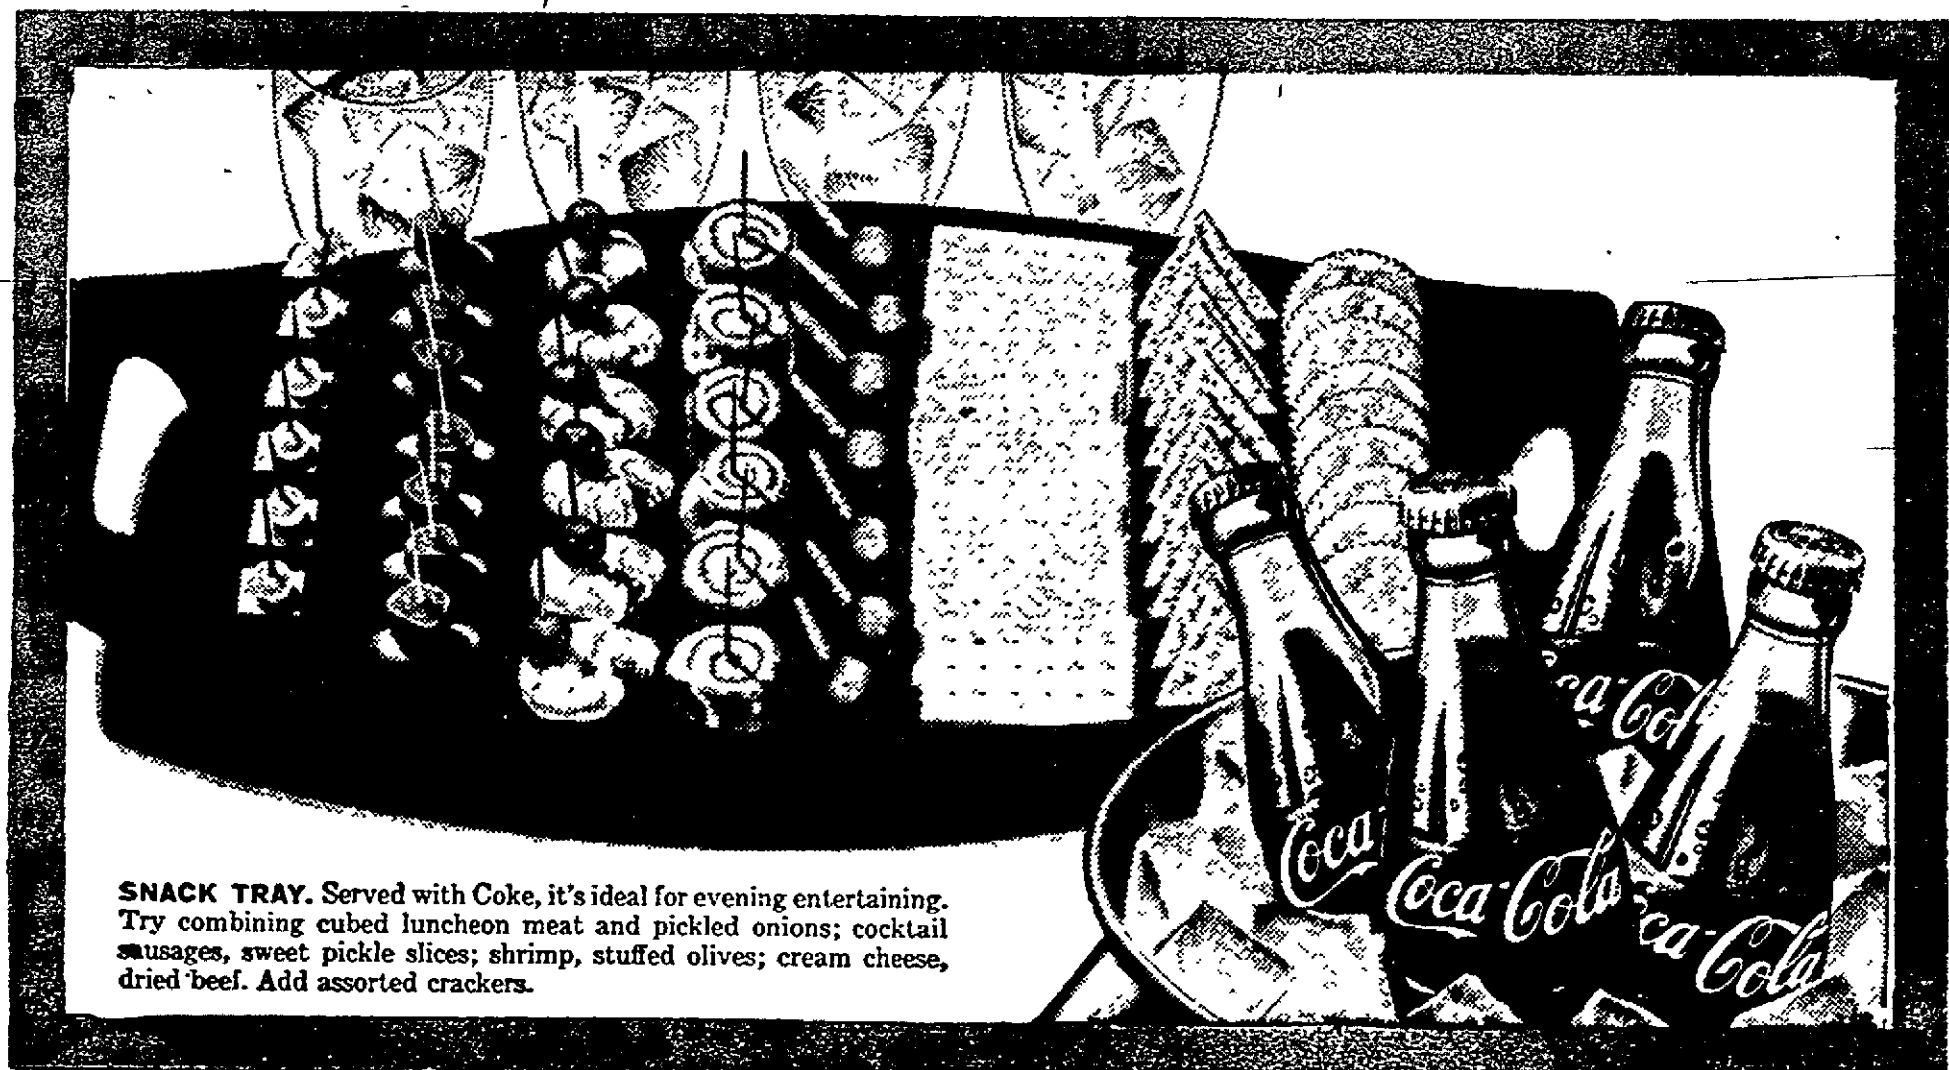

Of the total acreage 36 per cent is in aspen, 19 per cent in oak, 18 per cent in northern hardwoods, nine per cent in elm, ash and cottonwood, and 18 per cent in coniferous varieties of trees.

Hamburger Rice Cups Easy Recipe

Take advantage of the many attractive and delicious ways of preparing ground beef. Try ground beef in this simple-to-do recipe in which the meat lines a custard cup, forming a cavity for an onion-parley-rice mixture.

Hamburger Rice Cups
2 pounds lean ground beef
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon pepper
1 egg, slightly beaten cups cooked rice

2 teaspoons finely chopped onion
Mix ground beef, salt, pepper, and egg. Press meat mixture against sides and bottoms of eight six-ounce greased custard cups to a depth of 1/2 inch, forming a cavity in the center of the meat.
Mix cooked rice, onion, and parsley; place in cavity. Bake in 350 degree oven 45 minutes. Let stand in a warm place for five minutes. Run a knife around the edge to loosen; remove from cup.

Neuberger Meddles With the Indian Bill

Sen. Neuberger of Oregon has proposed several amendments to the Menominee Indian bill which was passed by the House of Representatives. Either the junior senator from Oregon has a distorted idea of the problem in Wisconsin or he is trying to build up a record of money-saving projects to lay before the people of Oregon as a balance to his usual ultra-liberal ideas about the spending of public funds.

The bill which passed the House was carefully drawn, not only after considerable consultation with the Menominees but with the approval of the Wisconsin Menominee Indian Study commission, Wisconsin's governor and attorney general; also a method was provided to link it with constitutional amendments which must be passed first by the Wisconsin legislature and then the people of the state.

But this has meant nothing to Sen. Neuberger. For some reason he has ignored the advice and added amendments switching around termination dates, costs and generally patronizing the Menominees.

The original bill set the termination date at June, 1961, which would leave time not only for the involved settlements of disputes in the tribe but for the Wisconsin legislature to pass on constitutional changes and for the people of the state to vote on such proposed changes in the spring of 1961. Sen. Neuberger flatly put December, 1960, as the termination date, much in the same way that Sen. Watkins decided on procedures and termination after a 1-day visit to Keshena a few years ago.

Another amendment would change the paying of full costs of termination from the federal government, if the costs were approved by the secretary of the interior, to half and half. The estimated cost of termination is set at $550,000. How many times has half this amount been tossed away on some foreign aid tomfoolery which the senator from Oregon has piously supported?

There is little objection to the point of view that the Menominees should be cut loose from their status as wards of the government. Often, as in the case of farm price supports, the only way to make such a termination program sure is to set a date and stick to it. The Menominees deserve to be full-fledged citizens with the responsibilities as well as the privileges that go with citizenship. But the congressmen from Wisconsin and the specially-appointed Wisconsin Menominee Indian Study commission have had the opportunity to know the problems of this severance program far more fully than Sen. Neuberger.

This is an example of vague, arrogant bureaucracy at work. The Senate should throw out the amendments proposed by the senator from Oregon and return the bill to its original, intelligent state.

Urban Study Far From Complete

Members of the Legislative Council's Urban Study committee have agreed that they will not be able to recommend any sweeping changes in laws affecting urban areas to the 1959 legislature. However, they will concentrate on plugging some loopholes in the present law with temporary measures until the study can be completed and more general changes recommended.

Richard W. Cutler, a Milwaukee lawyer who has served as attorney for many recently incorporated suburbs near Milwaukee, offered some interesting testimony. He believes the commission should draft a statement of policy in such incorporations. This statement would set minimum requirements for incorporation, including a population-area formula. The statement also would take into consideration the neighboring cities, the ability of the proposed municipality to serve the area and whether the proposed new city would create more problems than it would solve.

He pointed out that Wisconsin's present incorporation laws are so outmoded and so easily satisfied that "the public has been shocked by the proliferation of incorporated areas." Many of the incorporations are probably illegal, he said, although they have never been tested in court. The lure of shared state taxes, control of land through zoning and the preservation of home rule have been the chief incentives to incorporation, he said.

The adoption of such a policy statement on the minimum requirements for incorporation by the legislature would effectively end the rash of incorporations that has taken place under the present loose laws.

James R. Donoghue, director of the University of Wisconsin Bureau of Government, said the state's urban expansion problems cannot be studied without giving attention to the roles of town and county governments. He pointed out that his bureau is now engaged in a study of county government reorganization and will have recommendations to make in that area. Assemblyman Metzner, Madison, suggested that a moratorium be placed on all annexations, consolidations and incorporations in areas surrounding large cities until the various committees can make their final recommendations.

The proposals before the committee make it quite plain that those who have studied the matter carefully believe present activities in the state's urban areas are not in the best interests of the people in the many communities involved. The experts on the committee seem to be convinced that most of the incorporations should be halted until a more satisfactory plan can be worked out. This fact should serve as a warning to people in suburban areas who are being urged to incorporate without first thoroughly studying the problems involved in such an action.

Is Appleton's Slip Showing?

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Appleton is a wonderful city, as you well know. In fact, it could be compared to an attractive, wealthy and young woman. Strangers remark on her beauty. She is the center of attraction. There is a bright future awaiting her. You must remember, though, that even the most well-groomed and poised young miss will lose some of her charm if her slip is showing.

Appleton's "petticoats" are just that: her surrounding territory or "out-skirts". Almost anyone living in these areas can tell you all about Appleton. They can name her main streets, tell you where her parks are and say who is running for her chief city official offices.

I doubt if many of the residents of Appleton can tell you about their neighbors on their east, west, north and south. Are they rural areas? Are new subdivisions springing up? What new industries are building there?

Expanding Appleton should eye these sections as a father would a prospective son-in-law. They may some day be one-of-the-family. Are these areas prosperous and healthy? Are there any "shanty towns" developing? Will Appleton, in time, be boxed in by industrial zones; or will she have several lovely little suburbs at her feet?

I am not sure what the people of Appleton can do to help and encourage the right kind of development of the lands around her. I know, though, that if you are reading this it is because you are interested and I am hoping that amongst you there will be some who know what can be done and will do what they can to help. We, outside of the city, would be grateful and you, in Appleton, would be helping in making that great future of Appleton's a reality.

Paper Workers Wear Own Products

From The Forestry Digest

Many plant workers in the mills of Kimberly-Clark corporation, Neenah, are wearing paper work clothes, a product which the firm is developing in its research laboratories.

Some of the company's office girls are also trying out paper dresses and skirts, printed in eye-catching designs and having a crispness which does not wilt with wearing.

The paper material is non-woven, formed by laminating several piles of high wet-strength cellulose wadding to each side of a web of cross-laid threads of rayon, nylon or glass, and held together by an adhesive. Built-in features include resistance to wrinkling, scuffing, linting and desirable draping quality.

The garments produced in the research laboratories are not only water-resistant, but also burn-resistant, and some can be washed and reused a time or two.

About the only "paper" characteristic of the material is that it cuts like paper. But it sews like cloth. However, it need not be sewed, but can be glued together or fastened by pressing with a hot iron. The cost? Only about $4 for a new gown, officials speculate.

One Out of Twenty Alive

From a newsletter of Rep. Melvin R. Laird

For the first time in the history of this country, less than 60 per cent of our population is in the productive age groups of between 19 and 60 and physically able to work. More than 40 per cent are below 19 and over 60. Never has there been such a large portion of our population made up of young and elderly people and such a low proportion in the so-called productive age group. One out of 20 people that ever lived in the entire history of mankind is alive today. This simple fact has a profound effect upon our government and its welfare programs.

From a Newsletter of Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin.

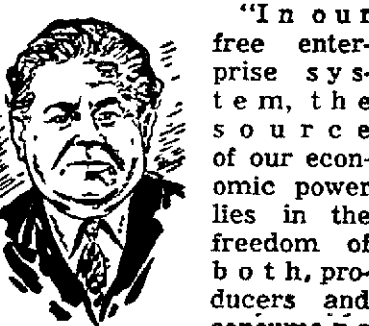

'Stop at Once, Do You Hear?'

These Days

Reduced Federal Waste, Taxes, Prices Will End the Recession

BY GEORGE SOKOLSKY
(Copyright, 1958)

Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson said in an address recently:

Sokolsky

"In our free enterprise system, the source of our economic power lies in the freedom of both producers and consumers to make their own decisions—decisions on markets, decisions on new products, decisions on purchases, decisions on spending versus saving, decisions on what the course of the economy may be in the future. It is these decisions—the millions of them which are made every day—which determine whether the wheels of our economy will turn at a faster or slower rate."

This is a very well-written statement of the rights of the individual in the capitalist system, but it is not true in the United States or anywhere else in the year 1958.

Government Manipulation

In the first place, the income tax, not only the enormous share that it takes of each person's earnings but the brutal method of collection, reduces the individual's authority over his own greater or lesser degree. Depending upon his earnings and the nature of his business. Furthermore, the government's manipulation of the value of money and of prices by subsidies and supports and other gimmicks further reduces the individual's authority over his own earnings. Money is an exchange for services and goods and is a measure which, when constant, permits for planning. When the value of money becomes inconstant and prices fluctuate upward, a share of each individual's earnings disappears into nothingness.

The secretary of the treasury ought to explain what he means to do about that when he describes the rights of decision on the part of free men. Men are only fully free when no one is manipulating their earnings by destroying values. The head of a family is avoiding post-payable expenditures at this moment because he feels that the market is outpriced and that prices must come down to a reasonable level. What is a reasonable level? It is a figure which the consumer can afford to pay without suspecting that he is being robbed.

Economics are not hard to understand. The professional economists and professors, who are usually small earners, have developed a jargon and systems which sound terrific: but the peddler of oranges knows that if he can sell an orange for more than it costs him plus his time and overhead, he earns a living; if he has to sell for less, he goes broke. This is the essence of the problem. Such a fellow also understands that if the customers are not working, they cannot buy the way they do when they are working. He also understands that people believe that they can get along without oranges but not without bread and that when in the United States, they sell their late model cars for older model cars, they are close to broke. Nobody needs to go to school to learn that much.

Buy If They Have Money

Therefore, when the president says, "buy!" but that he will not cut taxes, he is speaking against a vast knowledge and experience. People do not buy because a president tells them to; they buy because the money jingles in their pockets and the prospects are clear. President Eisenhower has an advantage President Hoover did not have; there are enough Americans here about who remember 1929 and who recall that optimistic prognostications are not very helpful. Nothing helps but money in the pocket and the easiest way to get more of it there quickly is to cut the waste out of government and thereby to cut taxes and to get prices down by removing all artificial barriers to their coming down when they should come down.

Many great men do not like to use the word money; they think it is sordid, common, cheap. But it is the medium of exchange with-

Saloon License Raise Defeated

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of April 26, 1879.

The session of the council meeting Tuesday evening last was in several respects an interesting and important meeting.

An attempt was made to increase the saloon license to $100, but failing to repeal the existing ordinance and passing a new one to conform with the proposed increased price, merely leaves the question where it was before — $75. It is stated that had Ald. Wambold been present, the council would have stood a tie on a $150 license. We presume that this will be taken care of in the next council session in May. The petition to tunnel Prospect street in the ravine must necessarily involve a large expenditure, but if necessary to promote our water power interest, the street committee will give it careful consideration. A large number of sidewalks were ordered repaired and rebuilt.

25 YEARS AGO

Wednesday, April 19, 1933

A serious threat to abolish the county dance hall ordinance occurred at that morning's session of the county board when supervisors were asked to consider a resolution providing for reduction of dance hall license fees from $25 to $15 and dance hall inspector fees from $3 to $4 per night.

Ald. C. D. Thompson was elected president of the new common council. He succeeded Walter Gmeiner, former Third ward alderman.

Mrs. H. G. Noyes was elected president of the Women's Union of First Baptist church. Mrs. J. E. Nelson was chosen vice president. Mrs. L. B. Powers was named missionary director. Mrs. W. S. Ryan was elected reading contest director and E. J. Peterson was named White Cross director.

Championship of the Appleton Contract Bridge association was won by Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Frank.

Ald. Charles Grade of the Fifth ward, Menasha, was elected chairman of the Menasha board of health.

Steinle Needs to Get Going if He's Candidate

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison—In the six weeks since Roland Steinle retired from a dignified and comfortable berth on the Wisconsin supreme court to run for the Republican nomination for United States senator some of the practical politicians have been quietly appraising his effort.

Wyngaard

Their tentative conclusion is a mixed one.

The retired judge started with some conspicuous advantages, in name, stature, state-wide reputation and acquaintance, and in a considerable background of practical political experience.

But he has done little to exploit them or to expand them during the critical weeks before he will stand before the Republican state convention in Milwaukee next month and invite the appraisal of some 3,000 delegates who will decide who will get their endorsement for this important office.

His campaign has been unimaginative and awkward. His publicity has been weak. He has not yet shown a familiarity with the issues, or a disposition to encounter head-on the remorseless, resourceful Senator Proxmire who is the ostensible target of his own drive.

THE TROUBLE

The current series of Republican district caucuses are not the most comfortable for the candidates who are billed for speeches there.

After allowing time for the routine business and the introduction of guests and the rest of the fluff that is inevitably associated with such affairs, the candidates on hand are usually granted five minutes of time each to explain themselves.

To the ordinary politician that is a very brief budget indeed. Yet it was once said that any philosopher could tell all he knows in a quarter of an hour, and it might be supposed that under such time pressure the candidate trying to make a good first impression would use such minutes as he has to the greatest effect.

But Judge Steinle devotes most of his budget to a recital of his biography. It is a fairly impressive story, but it might be assumed that these practical politicians, county leaders and the rest, know all about that and are more concerned about what he thinks and believes.

There is a vast curiosity in the hall, for example, when Steinle declares with a considerable oratorical fervor that he stands on "Republican principles," always has, and always will.

But what are those "Republican principles", the delegate who came 30 miles to the rally might want to know. Precisely what does this candidate for one of the most prized places on the ticket think about the issues of the day, his opponent's record and platform, and about the philosophy of the Republican party whose standard he wants to carry?

The candidate doesn't get around to saying. Except for the hand-shaking, the delegate might as well have stayed home to get in his onion sets.

OLD TIMES

Judge Steinle was an active and successful politician in his younger days, before he entered judicial service about 20 years ago. Once he was a candidate for lieutenant governor. Again he was county chairman in key Milwaukee county.

But as political alignments and issues go, those were ancient times. He has had every little contact with the politics of today, and sometimes he unguardedly reveals that he may find it difficult to catch up.

In newspaper interviews he tends to look back nostalgically to such good friends as the late Charles B. Perry, speaker of the state legislature 30 years ago, the late Walter S. Goodland, and the late William Campbell of Oshkosh, the "father" of the voluntary Republican organization.

But it may be guessed that there are very few persons in his current audiences who remember either Perry or Campbell very well, and a sizeable number to whom the name of Goodland is only a legend also.

5 SEATO Nations Start War Games

Bangkok, Thailand—Five nations of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization Tuesday launched week-long war games aimed at repelling a simulated invasion of Thailand. The problem called for a counterattack against invaders from three "enemy" nations who had thrust to within 80 miles of Bangkok. More than 3,000 Thai troops are taking part, along with planes from the United States, Britain, Australia, New Zealand and Thailand. Observers from South Viet Nam, Laos, nationalist China and South Korea are witnessing the exercise. Representatives of the other Seato nations—Philippines, Pakistan and France—also are on hand. Thailand's King Phumiphon Aduldet is scheduled to join his country's ground force and take part as a foot soldier.

Young Killer of Girl Given Life Sentence

Chicago—An 18-year-old youth, who confessed beating a 14-year-old girl to death when she resisted his advances, was sentenced Monday to life imprisonment, eligible for parole in 20 years. Judge Grover Niemeyer pronounced the sentence on Robert Max Fleig in criminal court after he pleaded guilty to a murder charge in the lovers lane slaying of Mary Lou Wagner, a high school freshman, last Dec. 2. Police said Fleig admitted beating the girl to death with a rolling pin. Her body was found in a shallow pool near the north suburban Glenview Naval Air station.

WORDS OFTEN MISUSED: The preposition "of" should not follow "all," unless the next word is a pronoun. Thus, "ALL THE men were present," and "ALL OF us were absent."

OFTEN MISPRONOUNCED: Sagacious. Pronounce sah-gay-shus, accent on second syllable.

OFTEN MISPELLED: Equilibrium; three "i's."

SYNONYMS: Friction, attrition, abrasion, rubbing, massage.

WORD STUDY: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day.

Today's word: forensic; beating the girl to death with a rolling pin. Her body was found in a shallow pool near the north suburban Glenview Naval Air station.

Seymour Farm Family Trades Tourist Trip For Purebred Calves

Hilmer Muellers Tour Colombia in Payment For Cattle Under Year-Old Exchange Plan

BY MRS. ERVIN HUETTL
Seymour — "Tourists for Cattle" is the name of the plan used by the Colombian dairy producers and U. S. dairy cattle breeders. In 1957 when foreign exchange problems drastically reduced the purchase of purebred cattle, this plan was developed by the U. S. agricultural attache in Colombia and the Colombian cattlemen.

Taking advantage of this tour in payment of dairy calves by 13 families from Wisconsin and one from Iowa this year. Among the state families was one from Seymour, Mr. and Mrs. Hilmer Mueller, route 3. While in Colombia the Muellers visited farms and ranches in the Savanna plateau, Cauca valley and Medellin area.

Richest in Country
The Cauca valley is the richest agriculture center in the country. The soil is 30 feet deep and fertilizer is entirely unnecessary. Corn matures in 120 days, grain in three and one half months. The sugar cane is replanted, according to variety, only from every six to 14 years. The cane is cut every six months by hand and hauled by horse and oxen to several modern refining plants.

The valley spreads 100 miles between the Andes and, though the altitude is 4,000 feet, it is warm enough for coffee, cacao, bananas, pineapple and other tropical fruits.

This valley alone is capable of supplying food for all of Colombia and will have a surplus for export when flood control measures are completed.

Visited Farm
Near Medellin, sub-tropical in climate and 5,000 feet in altitude, the exposition was held. Since the animals shipped before the Americans arrived had to stay in quarantine, only one farm was visited where placement of an animal of the Mueller's herd was made.

Most of the dairy farms visited had their own pasteurizing plants. Milking parlors were numerous and one herd of 150 cows had a new milking parlor of 13 stalls. It took six men only two hours to take the cows through the parlor.

One man recorded the milk and weights and the processed milk was bottled and shipped by plane to the cities. Before milking, the barns and cows were washed down.

Most farms are fairly large. Labor is plentiful and a wage of about $2.50 a day is average. Tractors are seen on large farms but the oxen are often seen since the tractors cannot work the steep hillsides.

Cane-Like Grass
The cows are fed a cane-like grass, cut like silage, mixed with a concentrate. They have pasture all year long but a cucuyo grass, similar to our quack grass prevents good, nourishing grasses from flourishing.

At Mosquera is one of several stations promoted by the Rockefeller Foundation. The South Americans own the buildings but the machinery and equipment are from the United States. They are collaborating in finding grass types that will do well in the climate of high altitude and little rain.

Various strains of white clover look most promising to survive the cucuyo grass. Test plots are in operation devoted to wheat, barley, oats and grasses taken from all over the world.

An underground cathedral carved from a salt mine was visited in Zipaquirá. It was started in 1950 and four years of work was done before it was opened to the public. Work still goes on.

The Museum of Colonial Art at Bogotá, Colombia, was one of the stops of interest in the tour made by Mr. and Mrs. Hilmer Mueller, route 3, Seymour, third and fourth from the left, during their stay in the South American country which traded the tourist trip for purebred cattle consigned to Colombian farms. There were 13 Wisconsin farms represented on the tour. Richard Smithwick, right, is a Casco farmer.

Action Now Needed For Pine Weevil Threat

Waupaca Forester Urges Spraying for Woodlots Infested Up to 5 Per Cent

BY JOHN WELLS

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Waupaca—White pine tree growers should take action now to prevent tree damage from the white-pine weevil, according to Dale Tubbs, county forester.

The weevil emerges from the ground as warmer weather sets in, says Tubbs, and attacks the terminal bud, or top shoot, of the pine tree. Tiny holes are eaten through the bark allowing pitch to flow which indicates the presence of the weevil.

Eggs are laid in these small holes and the hatched grubs feed on the inner bark of the tree, resulting in a loss of several year's growth and possibly a crooked tree.

Long Lasting Spray
Tubbs says forests with 5 per cent infestation should be sprayed. One spraying should last for three years. A lead arsenate spray containing 9 1/2 pints of water, one pound lead arsenate, four ounces of boiled linseed oil and 95 drops of Dupont spreader sticker is recommended. The spreader, lead and oil are mixed with water in that order.

The terminal shoot should then be thoroughly doused with the solution. Shoots already infested should be pruned. Then, one of the healthiest looking side branches below it should be selected to replace the top shoot and the other top branches pruned, says Tubbs.

Once trees reach a height of 14 to 16 feet, spraying is not economical, according to the forester.

Better Precaution
Although chemical spraying works as an emergency measure, Tubbs says the best way to protect white pine from the tip weevil is by growing it in a mixture with a nurse crop, preferably hardwoods.

The hardwoods should be taller than the white pine in early years and afford about 50 per cent shade for the white pine. The jack pine, Norway spruce

Start of Bee Season Calls for Hurry Up Journey to Alabama

Hilbert—Alfred Haltinner of route 1, Hilbert, accompanied by Robert Knox, Appleton, have returned from a hurry-up trip to Birmingham, Ala.

The men have an apiary and go each spring to bring back worker and queen bees to replace those that were lost over the winter.

The bees are brought back in several hundred three or four pound screened packages about one and one-half by four inches in size. As soon as their truck is loaded they are obliged to return with their fragile cargo as soon as possible.

Further information on planting practices, management and control may be obtained by contacting Forester Tubbs in the basement of the Waupaca court house.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Culbertson, route 2, Hortonville, rallied around to help them clean-up chores about the farm. The Medina family lost its eldest son, Ray, 20, in an automobile accident April 13. Ken Schroeder, left, and Lyle Manley, route 1, Appleton, were among the some half dozen neighbors who were helping the family Friday. The neighbors pitched in and helped Culbertson in 1946, too, when he lost his barn in a fire. The Culbertsons have another son, Dean, 8, and a daughter, Sandra, 18, living at their 110-year-old farm. Waupaca Farm Agents
Map Pay Increase Plan

15 Farmers Selected to Test Advantages
Of Using Facilities, Aids Available

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Waupaca — An attempt is being made to increase the income of 15 Waupaca county farmers by $2,000 each during 1958 by county agricultural workers.

Initiated by the Farm Bureau, the plan is intended to help farmers help themselves to add income through the use of conservation practices, proper farming methods, good fertilizing and other agricultural services provided free to the farmer.

At a recent meeting attended by the 15 farmers who were selected for the project, talks were given by John Nimlos, SCS, Mike Drozd, extension service, Dale Tubbs, county forester, Lowell Feathers, ASC, Lee Dobberstein, FHA, and Curtis Hatch, president of state Farm Bureau.

15 Select Farms

The service agents chose the 15 farms in hopes of showing other county farmers the results that can be gained by taking advantage of the services offered by their offices. Technical data, soil supervision and assistance can be given to aid all county farmers.

Drozd, county agent, explained that even simple changes such as crop rotations or different feeds can mean money in the farmer's pocket.

He said proper fertilizers will play an important role in gaining additional income through increased yields.

Nimlos, soil conservationist, said his department could help by good soil planning and conservation projects such as terracing, strip cropping and land leveling with increased yields and better soil in mind.

He said the services of all the agricultural aids in the county must be correlated for the best results.

Forester Tubbs informed the farmers that nonproductive land is eligible for government payments under forestry plans. He said payments are available for tree planting, woodlot improvement, and other conservation plans.

Tubbs also will aid farmers by woodlot analysis and marketing assistance.

Farm home administrator in the county, Dobberstein, will be available to lend farmers money at low interest rates on long terms. He told them his office attempts to aid the farmer who is unable to get a loan elsewhere, but needs the money and will be able to make good use of it.

The FHA also helps the farmer to plan his income, and spend it in the wisest way possible. With this aid, conservation improvements can be easily financed, he said.

Feathers, ASC, explained the government cost sharing plan with the 15 farmers. It offers incentive payments to get farmers started on good conservation projects. He said projects such as liming are eligible for half total cost payments.

Hatch explained that the bureau was not actually planning the program, but just presenting the idea to agricultural workers.

Participating Farmers

Farmers participating in the plan include Allen Ireton, route 2, Weyauwega; Carlton Miller, route 1, Clintonville; John Weisbrod, route 2, Iola, Lawrence Dahl, route 2, Tigerton; Leo Janke, route 1, Ogdensburg; Marvin Schwanke, star route, Weyauwega, and Vernon Wasrud, route 3, Iola.

Others are Donald Peterson, route 1, Scandinavia; Clarence Wall, route 4, Waupaca; Harry Johnson, route 2, Waupaca; Wilmer Gehrke, route 1, Ogdensburg; Harvey Remert, Clintonville; Leland Smith, Manawa; Lowell Feathers, Manawa; and Milton Hintz, Marion.

Farmers in the Fox Cities Area got a good early start in planting this year to make up for the delayed planting season last year. Henoeh Bruss, route 1, Fremont, above, started seeding on March 3, and found his fields exceptionally free of water holes, the first time he encountered ideal planting conditions. The earliest Bruss started planting was March 25 in 1945. (Post-Crescent Photo)

There have been more feeders cattle moving into the Corn Belt and at higher prices. Reiersen says some Wisconsin farmers may still have considerable feed on hand and feel that they should hang on to their cattle. He figures that farmers who do hang on will be fighting a declining market. The prices might drop suddenly if a large number of farmers decide to ship at the same time, or the market could be more orderly with gradual declines. In any case, the returns in the future may not be as much as now, even though cattle are heavier.

Co-op Breeders Report More Service in 1957

331,377 Cows Hike Total for Firm To 2 1/2 Million

During 1957 331,377 cows were inseminated by Badger Breeders cooperative of Shawano to bring the total number inseminated by the cooperative in its 17 years of operation to nearly 2 1/2 million cows. Badger Breeders cooperative operates in 27 counties in Wisconsin and Menominee county of Michigan.

Badger Breeders, the largest direct-member cooperative in the United States, has a total membership of 28,351 members, and 1,824 new members joined the cooperative in 1957.

The cooperative has a bull stud comprised of 70 outstanding sires, made up of the four major dairy breeds, Holstein, Guernsey, Jersey and Brown Swiss, and Angus of the beef breed. This bull stud is recognized by breeders all over the United States as being outstanding. Member in all counties are experiencing good results in their herd improvement program from Badger Breeders. Better cattle on their farms means a better living for their families.

The cooperative employs 122 sales and service technicians to perform the service in the 28 counties it serves. Technicians serving Outagamie county are Paull Dittman, Norbert Jochman, Victor Klevesahl, Elroy Nelsen, Leonard Schmidt and Orlen Vollbrecht.

4-H Members To Have Pony Show at Fair

Calumet County Officials Plan Third Exhibit

Chilton — A light horse and pony 4-H project will be offered at the 1958 Calumet county fair, according to Lowell O. Pierce, club agent.

This will be the third year that pleasure horses have been exhibited at the fair and the second year in which ponies have gained status as a county-wide 4-H project.

The purpose of the horse program, Pierce said, is to help 4-H youth achieve the following goals: development of leadership, experience in the pride and responsibility of owning a horse or pony and training in its care; appreciation of riding and the skill of horsemanship; knowledge of safety precautions to prevent injuries to exhibitors and their mounts and greater love for animals.

Pierce urged 4-H members interested in the project to contact his office for full information.

Three Apostle Birds Gone; Others Unhappy

San Diego, Calif. —(AP)—There are only nine apostle birds at the zoo and they seem unhappy, said Dr. K. C. Lint, curator of birds, who brought them from Australia.

They apparently get unhappy counting themselves and finding they are three short. Lint said they are called apostle birds because they are usually found in nature in flocks of 12. They are a small bird, also known as gray jumpers, good at keeping down locusts.

Calumet Conservationist Announces 7 Programs for '58

Chilton — Several Calumet county farmers have worked out complete plans for co-operation in the 1958 soil conservation plan with Bruno Zucolo, conservationist.

Farmers who have completed planning in recent weeks are Norbert Jackels, Walter Merbach, Ed and Gordon Mader, all of the town of Harrison; Melvin Buboltz, Brillion; Roman Biese and Al Nisler, Charlestown; and Peter Dorn, New Holstein.

Elmer Federwitz and Eugene Van Daalwyk, Chilton, have begun work on strip cropping layouts for spring planting.

New members who have joined the conservation program since Jan. 1 are Vernon Johann and Lawrence Mader, both of Harrison; James Van Daalwyk and Denver Heller, Chilton; E. W. Blonien, Brothertown; Harold Thiel, Woodville; and Eugene Steiner and John P. Shaver, both of New Holstein.

Surveys are now being made by engineers from the soil service to determine the feasibility of installing special conservation structures on the Lloyd Huebschmann farm, Brothertown. Of the structures being considered, one is a large drop inlet in connection with a farm pond, and the other is a concrete tow wall used to stop small gullies in connection with sod waterways.

Recent studies in Outagamie county conducted over a five year period have shown that farmers working out complete farm plans with the conservation program have increased their net income on an average of $800 annually over comparable farms without a plan, Zucolo said.

May 31 Set for Weanling Sale

Swine Breeders Hope To Expand Purebreds With Young Boars

Chilton — Directors of the Calumet County Swine Breeders association have set May 31 as the date for the weanling boar sale. It will begin at 1 o'clock in the afternoon at the Chilton fairgrounds. It is the first county weanling sale in this area.

Only Calumet county farmers are eligible to consign boars, which must weigh between 40 and 75 pounds and must be purebred animals.

Purpose of the event is to spread good boars throughout eastern Wisconsin, especially among feeder pig producers. Boars of all major breeds will be present, a minimum of 35 consignments are expected to be available for purchase.

Catalogues are available, without charge, at the office of Calumet county agent O. W. Meyer.

GIVE CROPS A FASTER START

PAYS OFF WITH BIGGER YIELDS

Knock the weeds out of your growing crops with a Winpower Rotary Cultivator. The off-set "cross-cut" tooth action gives you greater soil disturbance and better cultivation. Break crusts, break clods, pulverize the soil the way you like it. Crops grow faster — stay greener with this type of cultivation.

Come and see for yourself how this tillage tool makes bigger, better crops. See the heavy-duty construction that will give you years of trouble-free service. Give your crops this faster, cleaner start with a WIN-POWER Rotary Cultivator.

OLIVER Superior PLANTERS

for Accuracy at Modern Tractor Speeds

A simplified, double-value seed post on the Oliver Superior 452 and 252 Planters permits planting at fast tractor speeds. A hill of kernels is always waiting at the bottom near the ground. There's no scattering.

A sure-acting Variable Drop counts out exactly the number of kernels you want in each hill 2, 3, or 4. No need to switch plates—just flip a convenient lever.

Model variations include check row, drill and no-check hill drop. A wide variety of furrow opener and plate equipment is available.

Tension, Worry, Migraine, Among Causes of Headaches

By Joseph G. Molner, M. D.

Do brain tumors cause headaches? What about head injuries, or other injuries? What tests can be made for headaches?

These are some recent questions. That first one, which seems to be a rather common source of worry among headache sufferers, ought to be cleared up. The answer is that a headache resulting from a tumor tends to be a more or less constant ache, usually growing worse as time goes on. Simple remedies such as aspirin, ergotamine tartrate, and the like, do not relieve this type of pain. Likewise, nerve changes soon become apparent if a tumor is growing.

Thus the victim of any of the "garden variety" of headaches can, at least, put aside the nagging worry about a brain tumor. Brain tumors are not common; headaches are very common. It has been estimated that two-thirds of us have headaches of some sort. The other third, lucky fellows, don't know what a headache is like.

Allergy, Arthritis
There are lots of different causes — tension, migraine, tic-doloureux, old head injuries. Si-trouble doesn't account for a headache as often as believed — although it is quite possible that worry over sinus (or some other condition) can be a factor in touching off tension headaches. Likewise, while eyestrain can cause headaches, it is actually to blame in fewer cases than is supposed.

On the other hand there are two causes which are rarely suspected by victims until a doctor finds them. One of these is some arthritic change in the neck. Another factor that shows up many times is allergy.

The reason I stress some of these things is to make clear why it is not right to expect a doctor to analyze a headache in one quick interview. Sometimes it can be done — but sometimes not. The first step is an accurate "history," as to the kind of ache, duration, location in the head and the circumstances under which the headache starts.

Different Tests Used
In the more difficult cases some further tests may be in order, such as metabolism, X-ray, eye examination, electroencephalogram, or others.

The very frequency of two types, the tension headache and the migraine, which is to a large extent touched off by tensions, leads me to add this:

Your doctor can help you greatly with either of these, but you can help yourself by recognizing the fact that your tensions are responsible.
